INSURGENT BOMBERS RENEW ATTACKS ON BASQUES OF BILBAO

Government Rearguard Troops Throw Up Hastily-Erected Barriers Across Highway From Amorebieta, Reduced to Smoking Ruins—German Airmen to Be Tried for Murder

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 19 (P).—Basque defenders of refugee-packed Bilbao retreated from the smoking ruins of Amorebieta today as insurgent bombers flew to renewed attacks on the harassed Basque militia.

Clearing skies enabled the insurgent airmen again to join the offensive toward the last iron ring of fortifications about Bilbao.

Insurgent aircraft bombed the village of Munguia, ten miles north-east of Bilbao, for an hour. Devastation centred on the village church.

PREPARING TO SAIL
The bombers also scouted above Bilbao and dropped projectiles on the city's suburbs, while the Spanish liner Habana prepared to sail soon for Southampton with 4,000 children refugees.

Rearguard Government troops, hastily erected barriers across the Amorebieta highway, struggled to prevent insurgents from cracking the De Galle defence line on which Bilbao has pinned its hope.

The Government front was about eight miles east and slightly south of the capital, while the main body of troops fell back to Galdacano, pivot of the fortification line, only three miles from the capital's outskirts.

FIRST SETTLER CAME BY BOAT

Anthropologist Discounts Former Theories of Immigration to America

SEATTLE, May 19 (P).—America's prehistoric immigrants from Asia were seafaring men who braved the North Pacific in skin boats, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, famed anthropologist, said here today, discounting theories that Western America's first people came over a land bridge from the Far East.

Dr. Hrdlicka expressed the opinion on the eve of his ninth expedition to Alaska to trace pathways of ancient tribes who came to America by way of the Aleutian Islands in a series of waves.

Together with several assistants, the Smithsonian Institution scientist will sail on Friday aboard the United States coast guard cutter Northland.

TO FOGGY ISLANDS
The summer's expedition will take him far out along the fog-shrouded, treacherous Aleutian chain, to the islands of Atka and Adak.

"I believe that small native boats, and not the imagined land bridge or Arctic ice, were the means used in the crossing to America," Dr. Hrdlicka said.

"We have proof, too, that there was never any large mass migration. No large group of population could have existed. The migrants were mostly small tribes and parties of tribes that dribbled over from Asia for thousands of years."

"The migration may have begun several thousand years before the beginning of the Christian era," he added.

Three Killed in Frontier Action

SIMLA, India, May 19 (P).—Three Indian soldiers were killed and seven wounded today in the newest of a series of actions with rebellious natives in the Northwestern Frontier. Between 300 and 400 tribesmen attacked Government forces south of Coronation Camp, in Sham Valley.

WOULD KEEP QUEBEC FRENCH AS POSSIBLE
QUEBEC, May 19 (P).—The Legislature last night approved a motion of Rene Chaloult (U.N., Kamouraska), a disident nationalist, that geographical names throughout Quebec should be drawn from historical French names to preserve French characteristics of the province and to encourage tourist travel.

Philippine City Reported Afire

MANILA, P.I., May 19 (P).—The La-Vanguardia correspondent at Paracale, said the city is in flames with many believed dead and scores injured. Paracale, with 10,000 population, is in Caramarines Norte Province, Luzon Island.

DR. FRANK P. PATTERSON
Leader of the Conservative party in British Columbia, who will pay a visit to Victoria today in the course of his campaign tour. He will be guest of honor at a reception in the Conservative rooms, Campbell Building, this afternoon, and tonight he will address the big Conservative rally in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium and also speak at a meeting at Marigold Hall.

Primate Calls on Youth of Empire For Full Service

Archbishop of Canterbury Urges Self-Consecration In Service of Liberty, Justice and Peace—Gathering Makes Picturesque Scene in Brilliant Setting of Last Week's Coronation

LONDON, May 19 (CP).—Canadian youths sat today in Westminster Abbey, the scene of the great pageant of Empire a week ago, and heard the Most Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang, Archbishop of Canterbury and Primate of all England, ask them to consecrate themselves in the service of liberty, justice and peace.

The venerable sanctuary was instinct with the memory of men who in past generations had achieved much for the British peoples, but it was to the future that the Archbishop looked. As his hearers had been bequeathed a heritage from the past, so must they hand that heritage down to posterity. This was one of service to country, coupled with dedication to the three great causes.

Princess Elizabeth at Abbey

Greeted with thunderous acclaim by the crowds which packed London's streets as she drove with her sister, Margaret Rose, in a glass coach, Princess Elizabeth, elder daughter of Their Majesties, arrives at Westminster Abbey for the Coronation ceremony. She is being greeted at the west door by the Earl Marshal, the Duke of Norfolk; behind her, carrying her coronet, is her cousin, the young Viscount Lascelles.

Girl Is Killed By Famous Dog

Member of St. Bernard Pack Attacks Young Skier Near Monastery

GRENOBLE, France, May 19 (P).—Monks of the Mount St. Bernard monastery imprisoned their famed "rescue" pack of St. Bernard dogs in kennels "as a punishment" tonight because one of them killed a ten-year-old girl skier.

A monk explained it was impossible to establish the identity of the dog which attacked the girl because they all looked alike. He said the keeper was absent for the day, and since the guilty dog cannot be identified there will be no further punishment.

Marie-Anne Bremond was the victim. The ponderous dog, apparently rushing out with the pack as usual to greet travelers, chewed and mangled the girl as she approached the monastery with her father and two sisters, who were powerless to prevent the attack.

Conference Hears Eden

Minister Tells Dominions' Delegates Story of Tangled Foreign Affairs

LONDON, May 19 (P).—For more than an hour tonight Foreign Secretary Eden told the tangled story of foreign affairs to chief delegates to the Imperial Conference, met at 10 Downing Street, with Prime Minister Baldwin presiding. The Prime Minister added some remarks of his own.

Eden reviewed the course of foreign affairs back to the post-war Treaty of Versailles. But the official conference communiqué was scanty in the extreme. It related that a committee on constitutional questions was established; that discussion on foreign affairs was begun with a review by Mr. Eden of the general international situation, supplemented by some remarks by Mr. Baldwin. After a short discussion of a preliminary character, the meeting was adjourned until 12 noon Friday.

After Eden's review, the communiqué went on, all those present wanted time to consider the review. The Foreign Secretary's statement, it is learned, while it presented a troubled world outlook, could not be termed pessimistic.

HIS MAJESTY AT PORTSMOUTH FOR REVIEW OF FLEET TODAY

Royal Party Boards Yacht Victoria and Albert Ready for Inspection of Rows of Warships, Including Some of Other Naval Powers—Received City's Homage Earlier

Prince Chichibu Presents Order of Chrysanthemum

PORTSMOUTH, May 19 (CP).—From the murk of London to the sunshine of Portsmouth, the King and Queen traveled late today to review the fleet. Cheering crowds acclaimed Their Majesties and Princess Elizabeth as they drove six miles through the sunlight in an open car from Cosham Station to the dockyard, where a mighty armada was visible rising at anchor. The King wore the undress uniform of Admiral of the Fleet and the Queen a gown of pastel blue.

The royal party, including the Duke and Duchess of Kent, boarded the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, after a brief stop at the Guildhall, where civil officials were presented.

A double salute of twenty-one guns crashed out from the Admiralty yacht, Enchantress, and the naval saluting battery at Fort Blockhouse as the King stepped on board the yacht.

PICK OF THE NAVY
Tomorrow the yacht will steam through rows of grim warships drawn up off Spithead for the Coronation review. Probably the greatest display of armed naval might in the world's history, the 100 ships will include the pick of Great Britain's Navy, with one craft from each of the world's other naval powers.

The King was met at the Portsmouth Jetty by Admiral Sir William Fisher, commander-in-chief, and Rear-Admiral R. R. Turner, admiral superintendent of the Portsmouth base.

Big Tourist Season Seen

Travel Bureau Head Predicts Record Number of Visitors to Canada

OTTAWA, May 19 (P).—Canada will play host this year to the greatest volume of tourists in its history. An all-time high record was predicted today by D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau.

"On very conservative figures," said Mr. Dolan, "tourists will spend at least $325,000,000 in Canada this year and probably more. This will exceed the peak of $300,000,000 in 1929."

INQUIRIES INCREASE
"To date this year we have had 38,767 inquiries from people contemplating trips to this country. Last year at this time inquiries numbered 26,285 and the total for the whole of 1931 was 52,968. We should pass last year's total before the end of May."

Not only will the volume of tourists increase, Mr. Dolan said, but they will spend more. Economic conditions have improved and the character of the inquiries showed a greater proportion than last year were from people with plenty of money.

"Hotels, steamship companies and others catering to tourists all report reservations higher than in the past eight years," he stated.

REPEAT BUSINESS
"There is an increased volume of inquiries from every State in the Union and it is remarkable how much 'repeat business' we are getting. Tourists who visited one part of Canada in past years are coming back this year to some other part, so all sections of the country are receiving the benefit."

While most tourists come from the United States, said Mr. Dolan, there was also a substantial expansion in visitors from the British Isles and Europe.

Three Killed in Plane Accident

ANTIBES, France, May 19 (P).—Three persons were killed and two injured today when a new flying boat, designed for the France-to-South America service, caught fire and sank at the moment of taking off on a trial flight.

Three persons were rescued unhurt. The dead were the chief pilot, a mechanic and the engineer.

MAY SHIFT TO CANADA

New Locarno Treaty Not Likely Because Of Wide Differences

Talks Between European Statesmen During Coronation Fortnight Centre On Pacts to Strengthen Relationships for Peace

(Copyright, 1937, by the Hearst News Agency)

LONDON, May 19.—Conversations between British and Continental statesmen during "Coronation Fortnight" have centred on the questions of a new Locarno Pact, the Franco-Soviet Pact and the situation in Central Europe, authorized quarters disclosed tonight.

These circles indicated the talks resulted in identical views between Great Britain and France on these important questions. As evidence of this, informed quarters pointed to the communiqué published in Paris yesterday after a conference between French Foreign Minister Delbos and Soviet Foreign Minister Maxim Litvinov.

The communiqué conformed with ideas exchanged by Delbos and Foreign Secretary Eden during their

Cathedral Site Has Been Bought by B.C. Conservatives Told

Government Said to Have Purchased Hill Property
At Blanshard and Burdett for Approximately $45,000—Candidates Open City Campaign

OPENING their campaign in Victoria West last evening, city Conservatives declared the British Columbia Government recently purchased the former Anglican cathedral site at Blanshard and Burdett for a sum placed between $44,000 and $45,000. Telling of the purchase, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter said the city of Victoria would take a loss of $1,240 yearly in Crown use of these lands, through omission of taxes. Herbert Anson, Bruce A. McKelvie and Frederic A. Willis addressed the same meeting, held at Victoria West School, with Alex Monteith presiding.

The present administration had failed in its pledge of assistance to British Columbia municipalities, Dr. Hunter contended. Since 1930 Victoria city had been forced to assume $329,000 in additional yearly costs by the withdrawal of provincial grants, and the increased load of social services started as provincial ventures. This was equivalent to between eight and nine mills. Asking for assistance, municipalities had had the door shut in their faces by the Premier in person, and had been left "to stew in their own juice."

GOT $1,500

Vaunted municipal aid at the last session had been of little service to Victoria, which, supposed to have benefited to the extent of $50,000, actually got less than $1,500 from the changes on a yearly basis, Dr. Hunter continued. In addition to sites already held on Blanshard, Government and Superior Streets, the latest provincial acquisition would deprive the city of $1,240 in taxes yearly. With homes reverting daily for tax arrears, such withdrawals of revenue had been left unmatched by any equivalent return.

Touching briefly on health insurance, Dr. Hunter said that if the plan was to be attempted at all, it should include those who needed the service but could not now pay for it. The province's financial competence to supply such a service remained a question, Dr. Hunter concluded.

HERBERT ANSON

Herbert Anson predicted a Conservative sweep in the coming election. Unchecked borrowing had run the province into a serious impasse, and people were fully aroused to the necessity for action. Pledged to the middle course, the Conservative party offered the only sane way out. Changed conditions required change in methods. Capital and labor would have to be blended together for their mutual good and for the good of the state. Governmental costs would have to be reduced and existing debt lessened. A Cabinet of six ministers and a

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FACE PIMPLES

These disgusting little spots often result from a slight, temporary disturbance, or more serious internal causes. They are more persistent due to deeper internal causes.

While properly treating the underlying cause, you can relieve the itchy, burning soreness and help your skin by using an ointment that will keep the medication in contact with the pimply spots. Apply it every night and leave it on all night. It does a world of good.

For more than 40 years people have used Resinol Ointment to fill this need. It soothes skin irritation and aids healing. It also treats the oil pores where many surface pimples start. Washing first with Resinol Soap quickens the pleasing results. Buy a jar of Resinol Ointment and cake of Resinol Soap from any druggist. For free sample, write Resinol, Dept. 10, Baltimore, Md.

Fireworks Event Is Announced for Monday in Harbor

A BRILLIANT display of fireworks announced for Saturday will, instead, be held at 8:45 o'clock Monday evening from a scow in the Inner Harbor. The Empire Day event is expected to last forty-five minutes, and will include a large number of aerial pieces and an outline of Queen Victoria in fireworks, Alderman T. W. Hawkins announced.

much smaller Legislature than forty-eight seats would amply serve a population of 800,000. A Department of Trade would only be duplication of existing Federal services. Provincial debts had been run up by the present regime from $165,000,000 to $200,000,000, despite all denials. Sinking funds were in excess of $10,000,000 short. Depreciated Alberta bonds totaling $1,200,000 were held in trust accounts under the Workmen's Compensation Board, and $90,000,000 of the province's debt had been incurred during years in which Hon. John Hart had been in charge of the Treasury, Mr. Anson contended.

B. A. MCKELVIE
In a vigorous, aggressive address, B. A. McKelvie declared the present administration was asking a mandate in blank to go to Ottawa to assist in changing Canada's constitution, but would not say what changes were intended. He said the record of the regime had been one of dictatorial and bureaucratic action, with little regard for the rights of minorities or the expressed will of the people. The Special Powers Act had been a Fascist conception, abrogating all the rights of Parliament since the days of the Magna Carta.

Extra sessions with double traveling allowances and extra seasonal indemnities had been arranged without real warrant. Whole page advertisements had been published under the crest of the province, while addressed to party purposes, and paid by the people. A Liberal organizer had been installed at the Legislative Buildings at a cost of $5,065 to the people while retaining his party post. Borrowing, waste and extravagance had been rampant. Canada already had thirty-two trade agents abroad, but the province had not bothered to keep in touch with them. A supine following had permitted many excesses that had gone unchecked, Mr. McKelvie contended.

F. A. WILLIS
Necessary social reforms in Canada introduced by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett had been blocked by Liberal governments, both here and at Ottawa, F. A. Willis declared. The Conservative party stood pledged to constitutional revision necessary to bring these reforms about, without weakening the bonds of Confederation. The Civil Service would have to be taken out of politics and revised on the British system of efficiency and promotion by merit. Democratic forms would have to be restored in government.

Conservatives stood pledged to strict economy in public business, with a cessation of borrowing until the province got out of a very deep hole. In no other way could budgets be balanced, and a stop put to the pillaging of the resources to be left for future generations. The time had long passed for talking economy, without achieving it. It was time for action, and a thoroughly aroused public would see to it that the pledges were kept, Mr. Willis predicted.

Byron Johnson was greeted with prolonged applause when he rose to speak. He commended the recent speech by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to all young people and quoted from it and at the same time urged youth to take an active interest in the political life of the community. Mr. Johnson said it was the feeling of the Liberal Government that it had not gone far enough in the matter of social reform and intimated further advances in social legislation could be looked for from the Liberals in the next four years.

Mrs. H. P. Hodges, who was introduced as a graduate of King's College, London, asserted it was apparent that people of British Columbia and other parts of Canada were thinking, and thinking seriously, about the affairs of the country. During the past four years, she said, many nostrums had appeared as cures for the ills of the body politic, but they had proven they were not all they were cracked up to be. She stated the record of the Liberal Government "proves it does bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people."

The musical part of the programme consisted of selections by Curly's Harmonious Harvesters, Royal Victorians, Collegians; Len Foster with his tin whistle; solos by Miss Doreen Wilson and community singing led by Harry S. Hay.

Revue and Dance
To Be Presented

After many weeks of rehearsal, the Betty Clair Studio of Dancing is all set to present its revue and dance at the Foresters' Hall, Corner Street, on Friday at 8:30 p.m. An enjoyable programme of up-to-the-minute novelty dance numbers arranged and directed by Betty Clair is promised.

Two playlets, "A Fairy Revel" and "Chinese Fantasy," written and directed by Mrs. Sydney Langley, will be included in the programme. Jerry Schofield will act as accompanist, and Florence Noel will be vocalist. Betty Clair's orchestra will provide the music for the dancing. Trustee Percy E. George will act as master of ceremonies.

YOUNG PEOPLE JOIN CAMPAIGN

Twentieth Century Young
Liberals Hold Rally in Chamber of Commerce

Swinging into action in the present political campaign with a programme of rhythm and oratory, the Twentieth Century Young Liberals held a rally in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium here last night in which three of the four Liberal candidates for Victoria discussed some of the issues of the day and the audience heard the plea of youth for an opportunity to take a place in the affairs of state.

The meeting was presided over by Fred M. McGregor, and a lively programme of music and song supplemented the addresses.

Ronald W. Fairclough, nineteen-year-old secretary of the Young Liberals, reviewed some of the schemes inaugurated by the Liberal Government to assist the youth of the province, mentioning in particular the provincial recreational programme, which now embraces fifty-eight centres with a total of 10,300 enrolled. He also spoke of technical training and forestry work.

PLACE IN AFFAIRS

Miss Marjorie Hill, graduate of the University of Toronto in architecture, declared that youth today had privileges that, carried with them responsibilities and an opportunity to see changes taking place. She said she believed youth should take an active interest in the affairs of the country and that they had a chance through affiliation with the Liberal organization.

Alderman W. T. Straith was the first of the candidates to speak and he reviewed briefly the value of the civil service to Victoria. He said approximately 1,000 persons were employed on a payroll of $1,744,000, and disagreed with those who would make Vancouver Island a separate province. He referred to work on the West Coast road and said the uncompleted twenty-two miles would be constructed this year to connect Victoria by road with the centres of the lumbering industry. He stated the road was being constructed at the request of representatives of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and denied it was a "political dodge."

SOCIAL LEGISLATION
Byron Johnson was greeted with prolonged applause when he rose to speak. He commended the recent speech by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin to all young people and quoted from it and at the same time urged youth to take an active interest in the political life of the community. Mr. Johnson said it was the feeling of the Liberal Government that it had not gone far enough in the matter of social reform and intimated further advances in social legislation could be looked for from the Liberals in the next four years.

Mrs. H. P. Hodges, who was introduced as a graduate of King's College, London, asserted it was apparent that people of British Columbia and other parts of Canada were thinking, and thinking seriously, about the affairs of the country. During the past four years, she said, many nostrums had appeared as cures for the ills of the body politic, but they had proven they were not all they were cracked up to be. She stated the record of the Liberal Government "proves it does bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people."

The musical part of the programme consisted of selections by Curly's Harmonious Harvesters, Royal Victorians, Collegians; Len Foster with his tin whistle; solos by Miss Doreen Wilson and community singing led by Harry S. Hay.

Dr. Willard Brewing Is Named President Of B.C. Conference

Officials of United Church in Province Chosen at Annual Session Here—Memorial Service Is Conducted—Reports Presented

REV. Dr. Willard Brewing, of St. Andrew's-Wesley Church, Vancouver, was elected president of the British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada during the morning session of the conference here yesterday at Metropolitan United Church.

Other officers of the conference for the coming year are Rev. F. E. Runnals, Vancouver, secretary, and Rev. W. E. Galloway, Vancouver, assistant secretary, both named for a second term. Rev. H. T. Allen, Nanaimo, treasurer for the past four years, was asked to continue in that office, but did not accept. His successor has not yet been named.

RETIRED PRESIDENT
Rev. Dr. J. G. Brown, principal of Union College, Vancouver, who is retiring president, occupied the chair. He drew attention to the progress and unification that had taken place within the British Empire since the last British Columbia conference and was pleased to note that it had been accompanied by a parallel spiritual progress. He desired that at the beginning of conference the delegates should have in their mind's eye a clear picture of the Kingdom of God that would motivate all their activities during and following conference.

Rev. Hugh M. Rae, Vancouver, submitted the report of Rev. George G. Webber, also of Vancouver, for the Lord's Day Alliance. He expressed the felicitations of the conference to Mr. Webber, who has recently been elevated from Western to general secretary of the alliance. The report dealt with the efforts of the alliance to prevent the unlawful opening of theatres on Sundays, and other infringements of the Lord's Day Act. "It is the policy of the alliance," said Mr. Rae, "to protect the present act, and we are asking the unqualified support of all faithful church people to achieve this end." The report was unanimously endorsed by the conference.

DEAN QUANTON
Dean C. S. Quanton, Victoria, expressed the good will of the Anglican diocese to members of the conference, and urged that a resolution in support of the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society be passed by the conference. The resolution was introduced by Rev. E. F. Church, Metropolitan Church, Victoria, who also expressed the thanks of the conference to the diocese and particularly to the Dean.

Following the treasurer's report submitted by Rev. H. T. Allen, Rev. R. J. McIntyre spoke on behalf of the British Columbia Temperance League. He stressed the necessity of combating to the utmost the liquor traffic in this province, especially the use of alcoholic beverages by women and young people. He told of the graded course in temperance education that is to be given in the schools as a result of the efforts of the league and through the co-operation of Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education.

At the afternoon session a memorial service was held to honor the memories of those members of the British Columbia Conference who had died during the past year. Rev. Dr. Gerald B. Switzer, pastor of West Point Grey United Church, read in part the report of the obituary committee, of which he is chairman. Rev. D. M. Perley, Grand Forks, delivered the memorial address, and Rev. Dr. J. K. Unsworth offered a prayer of rededication.

Eight ministers of the conference died since the last session. They were Revs. C. A. Campbell, ordained in 1890; J. Williams Ogden, D.D., Vancouver, ordained 1878; William Pascoe Goard, of Harrow Weald College, near London; R. B. Beavis, Vancouver, ordained 1893; J. H. Cameron, B.A., D.D., Vancouver, ordained 1882; Samuel Cook, Vancouver, ordained 1913; W. L. Macrae, Vancouver, ordained 1886; and Charles Bishop, Victoria, ordained 1912.

FIRE DEMOLISHES TRACK CLUBHOUSE

Colwood Park Building Totally Destroyed by Early Morning Fire—Loss Set at $10,000

Fire of an unknown origin destroyed the vacant clubhouse at Colwood race track early yesterday morning, causing a loss estimated at $10,000, of which $7,000 was covered by insurance. Provincial police are conducting a searching investigation into the blaze.

The conflagration is believed to have broken out about 2 o'clock in the morning, but was not noticed by nearby residents until 2:15 o'clock. By that time it was too late to save the building.

All that now remains of the once popular track are the stables. Several years ago the grandstand and mutual sheds were destroyed by fire believed to be of an incendiary origin.

In Mr. Baldwin's speech in the Albert Hall on Tuesday he said that the British Empire "neither defies the state nor its rulers." By an obvious error the word defies was printed defies in yesterday's report.

Veteran Musician's
Golden Jubilee Is Honored by Public

George J. Dyke's Fiftieth Anniversary With Music
In the West Made Occasion for Concert at Empire Theatre—Enthusiastic Acclaim

AN almost unexampled contribution to the art of music was warmly acknowledged by the audience that went to the Empire Theatre last evening to the Golden Jubilee concert in celebration of George J. Dyke's fiftieth anniversary with music in Western Canada.

A search of Victoria's musical files has failed to reveal, up to the present, any parallel to the occasion except, in the case of one or two secular or church choirs, and in the cordiality of the reception accorded the George J. Dyke string orchestra, personally conducted by the veteran leader whose name it bears, a whole-hearted tribute to this dean among local musicians was implied. May he still long continue to wield the baton.

It was a beautiful and memorable programme in which the string orchestra took a leading part, but with the interest splendidly amplified by the brilliant pianism of Miss Barbara Cusance, Vancouver, the artistic singing of Mrs. F. G. Aldous, contralto, and Arthur Jackman, baritone, and the cameo-like charm of Miss Catherine Craig's dramatic readings.

THE ORCHESTRA

Had he made no other contribution to music in the West, Mr. Dyke's creation of this string orchestra of enthusiastic young musicians would entitle him to much praise. Here is an earnest and sincere group, engaged in the study of really worth-while composition, and performing in a manner that compels the deepest admiration. There is a spirit behind their playing that lifts it above the standards of the majority of ensembles of similar experience and size. One must attribute this chiefly to the conductor himself, who at all times, showed the most zealous and persuasive influence in bringing out the best from each section of the orchestra.

They follow the baton splendidly and gave many moments of unalloyed pleasure last evening in a programme that included the following numbers: Purcell's "Coronation Air," the Bach-Woodhouse "Fugue From a Sonata" (played here for the first time), Schubert's familiar "Moment Musical," the allegro and symphony movements from Boyce's charming "Shepherd's Lottery," Haydn's "Serenade," and the two Percy Fletcher "Bagatelles," "Valse" and "Pizzicato," and Cunningham Wood's graceful and expressively played "Grossenhall" suite, the slow air of which was a piece of resistance.

In "Miss Cusance the audience heard a young musician of truly exceptional accomplishments, a virtuoso of the first rank among Canadian pianists, with a clear-cut, limpid and sparkling execution that exhibits an amazing independence, yet co-ordination of the fingers and every movement of the hand, wrist and arm; a stylist, dynamic, vivid, comprehensive in her intellectual as well as her technical equipment; a super-technician and a very fine interpreter.

Two Ministers
Cabinet Quorum
Province Rules

TWO members of the Cabinet compose a quorum, the Government decided this week. Premier Pattullo and Hon. John Hart signing warrants for the appointment of stipendiary magistrates, juvenile court judges, and other orders. The Premier signed as presiding officer of the Executive, Attorney-General and as acting minister of lands. Herebefore three Cabinet Ministers were considered a quorum, but that was when eight ministers held portfolios in the Ministry.

heard a young musician of truly exceptional accomplishments, a virtuoso of the first rank among Canadian pianists, with a clear-cut, limpid and sparkling execution that exhibits an amazing independence, yet co-ordination of the fingers and every movement of the hand, wrist and arm; a stylist, dynamic, vivid, comprehensive in her intellectual as well as her technical equipment; a super-technician and a very fine interpreter.

Her two groups covered a wide range of difficult and interesting material: "Two Scarlatti numbers," "Bouree" and the sparkling "Tempo di Ballo"; the great Beethoven Sonata, Op. 27, No. 1; a Chopin group that included Mazurkas, Op. 7, No. 1, Waltz in G Flat, and Scherzo in C Sharp minor; Debussy's "Claire de Lune" and Liszt's Polonaise in E, No. 2. To these she added, in response to persistent applause, another Chopin number.

A voice of distinctive contralto beauty, sympathetic, artistically used and altogether pleasing, was heard in Mrs. Aldous' singing of "None but the Lonely Heart" (Tchaikovsky) and "Love Is the Wind" (MacFadyen), and Arthur Jackman's resonant baritone was enjoyed in Allitt's "There's a Land" and the recently composed "Statue of Queen Victoria" by a local composer, Kate Bentham.

Another gifted and versatile artist, Catherine Craig, added two dramatic readings, Pauline Johnson's "Cattle Thief" (for which she wore Indian costume) and in suitable contrast, the humorous "In Imminent Peril," with an encore.

FORESEES BIG TOURIST YEAR

Travel Both North and South
Of Border Expected to Break Records

"Indications are that tourist travel in the entire districts over which I traveled, both north and south of the international border, will pass all records this year," said George I. Warren, commissioner, Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, who yesterday returned from a 4,000-mile tour which took him as far south as Montana and as far east as Manitoba.

The survey made by Mr. Warren was a preliminary to the active work of the bureau for the Summer.

Conferences were held at Spokane, where the commissioner attended the annual meeting of the Hotel Greeters of the United States; at Wallace, Idaho; Missoula, Helena, Bozeman, Livingston and Billings, Montana; Bismarck, Steele and Fargo, North Dakota; Crookston and Noyes, Minnesota. In Canada Mr. Warren met officials of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, and of the Manitoba Tourist Bureau, at Winnipeg. At Regina he made negotiations for the distribution of literature from Victoria and the routing of tourists west to the Island. Contacts were made in Alberta at Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, while in British Columbia literature was left at Fernie and Cranbrook. On his return he visited Grand Coulee dam, where arrangements were also made for the distribution of literature.

Mr. Warren declared Highway No. 10 is paved from Seattle to the Great Lakes, with one or two minor exceptions, and was surprised to find Canadian roads in far better shape than had been advertised. Saskatchewan has paved stretches of road between the Manitoba and Alberta borders, while the Government of British Columbia is doing considerable work between Yank and the Crow's Nest Pass. "Canadian roads, though dusty, are better than fair," he maintains.

CALLS ON YOUTH
FOR FULL SERVICE

The service was held in connection with the Empire youth rally, which saw thousands of boys and girls from every corner of the globe assembled in the abbey.

IN SEATS OF PEERS
Canadian boys sat in the chairs which last Wednesday had been occupied by the peers of the realm, the girls where the peeresses had been seated. In the same section were delegates from India.

The abbey was still in its Coronation setting, with the crimson-covered chairs and footstools which had been used a week ago. Boys of Westminster School, arrayed in their swallow-tailed coats, acted as standard-bearers. They held aloft the flags of all dominions, colonies and dependencies, and preceded the procession of clergy from the west door of the abbey as the service opened.

An attendance of 5,000 of the Empire's youth necessitated an overflow service in the famous Westminster Hall.

PICTURESQUE SCENE
Picturesque in the extreme was the make-up of the gathering. Girl members of Prunella Stack's League of Health and Beauty sat barelegged and bareheaded opposite primly dressed English schoolgirls. Bermuda Sea Scouts, dressed in black, but with tarian scarves, furnished a sombre contrast to the crimson blazers of the Canadians.

The lesson was read by Rev. M. E. Aubrey, moderator of the Evangelical Free Churches. All listened with rapt attention as the Archbishop voiced his plea for the preservation of liberty, the promotion of justice and the maintenance of peace.

Charles Starrett at Columbia in "Saga of Rustlers," "The Mysterious Avenger"

"The Mysterious Avenger," the second of a series of thrilling Peter B. Kyne adventure stories which Columbia is making with Charles Starrett in the starring role opens at the Columbia Theatre today. The picture tells an up-to-the-minute story of cattle rustling on the Texas plains. Starrett is starred as a Texas Ranger called upon to apprehend the cattle thieves. He goes about his assignment in a straightforward, direct manner, risking his life in hazardous exploits, using ingenious ruses to outwit the alert rustlers, and availing himself of modern resources to track his prey.

Jungles of India

The highlight of the expedition which invaded the dense jungles around Mysore, India, to shoot "Elephant Boy," the Alexander Korda film based on Rudyard Kipling's "Toomal of the Elephants," was the discovery of one of the largest herds of wild elephants ever seen in these jungles. To herd these great beasts into a stockade, it was necessary to spread a seven-and-a-half mile circle and to employ a thousand beaters.

SPLIT TICKETS

So bemused are many people in the present election campaign that it is their purpose to split their votes on June 1. That course will, assuredly, give an even more dubious result, so far as the popular verdict is concerned, than if policies held greater sway in the public mind. Split tickets are the result of so many parties being in the field. Voters have their personal predilections, and in airing them on the ballot paper they neutralize the effect they want to produce. It is the undoubted right of any voter to give a mixed verdict, but it does not make for the cause of good government. Such is the chaos in public opinion in this Province that the coming election is almost certain to establish a Government in power which has not behind it a majority of the aggregate of the votes cast. That is the case with the present Government; it will be emphasized in the matter of whatever party is elected to power on June 1.

The meanderings of the human mind are not easily understood. There are those who claim that they want to see the best men as their elected representatives. That desire sometimes leads them to vote, in the case of a constituency which returns two or more members, for candidates of different political faiths. Then, such candidates, if elected, are found opposing each other on questions of policy. The elector has chosen men who are at odds, and who, because they are at odds, cannot accomplish anything jointly. This means that the will of the elector cannot be translated into action.

Split tickets do not make for the functioning of the public will. They are usually the outcome of so many political parties being in the field with their diversity of viewpoints, and so many parties are a mirror of the inconsistency of human thought. The people get, almost invariably, the kind of government they deserve. Those who split their tickets have split opinions. They are not voting for measures but for candidates, and must expect the expression of their divided views to be reflected in the Legislature.

MINORITY GOVERNMENT

In the United States third parties are "ships that pass in the night." The Coughlin party has, to all intents and purposes, disappeared; so has the Townsend party, and the Lemke inflationist bloc is no more. Not one of these parties succeeded in electing a single candidate in the elections of last November. Canada is going through a similar experience. New parties rise and fall. That was the way with the Reconstructionists who died a-borning and are never heard of now. There is good reason to believe that Mr. Aberhart's Social Crediters are in their death throes. The Canadian Co-operative Federationists have reached the summit of their appeal to the people and are declining in strength through rifts in their ranks and through the ineptitude of their political representatives because of lack of constructive policies.

The story of the coming British Columbia election will emphasize the fate of third parties. They are alien to the Anglo-Saxon political outlook. The only instance where a third party was maintained in the political history of the British Empire has been in Great Britain, where the Laborites are now a concrete force, but they rose to prominence through the practical disappearance of the Liberal Party. In the modification of political principles, political ideals and the general political outlook in these days, there is room within the constitution of the Conservative and Liberal Parties for any or all reforms that are desirable for the advancement of civilization. It is only where there are two parties that it is possible to have a government, at least a government for most of the time, that represents a majority of public opinion. The advent of third parties is an almost certain assurance of minority government. It is that form of government that British Columbia is going to "enjoy" or "labor under" after June 1.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

During his present visit to London, Mr. MacKenzie King is to find someone who will act as chairman of the Royal Commission on Finance and Taxation. The investigation to be made, with whatever outcome there is in the way of legislation, is contingent on an agreement between the Dominion and the Provinces on constitutional reform. The question of constitutional reform was brought to the fore, not through any agitation by any Province, but because of the recent judgments of the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council which disallowed Federal legislation as infringing on Provincial rights. The Royal Commission to inquire into finance and taxation is a preliminary to recommendations affecting constitutional reform.

Premier Pattullo, in his election manifesto, put forward as a plea for the maintenance of his Government in power the fact that he has been pressing for the appointment of a commission to inquire into British Columbia's claims for equality of treatment with other Provinces. This matter is not an election issue. There will be a conference relating to amendments to the British North America Act, but it could reach no useful conclusions until, first, the findings of the forthcoming Royal Commission on Finance and Taxation are made known. In view of what is proposed there seems no prospect at all of any separate commission to inquire into the claims of British Columbia. These will be made in connection with the relationships of the Provinces and the Dominions, and the subject is one that should be considered as a whole. Premier Pattullo in suggesting the possibility that there will be a separate commission to deal with British Columbia's claims is raising false hopes.

Financial and constitutional changes are interwoven. The latter must remain in abeyance until recommendations affecting the former are approved. In relation to both it is necessary for a unanimous agreement (on the part of the Provinces) to be reached with the Dominion Government. This is going to be a difficult task, and may take years.

Whatever is done is going to lead to some restriction of provincial rights as they exist at present. As matters stand the Dominion has assumed obligations which, by a strict interpretation of the Constitution, belong to the Provinces. Because of economic stress the Federal Government has assisted the Provinces in bearing their burdens, both in the matter of unemployment relief and in social legislation. The Federal Treasury has provided large sums of money for the Provinces. It has, indeed, been lavish in this respect, although under no obligation whatever beyond the moral one of maintaining the credit of the Dominion. The national responsibility is to the taxpayers of the country as a whole. It is that realization, more than any other, that has led to the decision to have a Royal Commission on Finance and Taxation, and, moreover, to lead up to constitutional changes which will give the Dominion the right to provide the services which it is expected to finance.

BRITISH FILM QUOTA

The quota system for British films is to be continued. It was first put into effect by the Cinematograph Films Act of 1927, and this expires next year, but is to be renewed in a modified form. The term of renewal will be ten years. Moreover, the Government intends to do what it can to help the industry in other ways and to see it is established on a firm basis. The quota system has helped to put the British industry on its feet. It still has a hard row to hoe because of the lack of immediate markets for its products of a size equal to those of the United States. In the latter country there are 15,000 picture houses with a seating capacity of 10,000,000. In Great Britain there are 4,300 picture houses, and even if those of the Dominions are added the seating capacity is under 6,000,000. The box office returns in Great Britain are $200,000,000 a year, as compared with $700,000,000 in the United States. A commission has investigated the film industry in Great Britain. One of its recommendations is that a Film Commission should be set up composed of those with no pecuniary interest in the industry and that among its duties should be that of applying a test to all films submitted for quota registration. This would be a test of quality and through it the quota could be gradually raised during the next ten years without detriment to the entertainment of British audiences and with excellent results to the industry. The exhibitors and renters do not approve of this proposal, but it is probable that the public would welcome a check on the goods produced, for it is some poor productions, known as "quicksies," that are not doing the British industry any good.

MR. GEORGE J. DYKE

It was a well-deserved tribute that was paid last evening to Mr. George J. Dyke, whose name has become a part of the musical history of this city. His association with the artistic life of the community has extended over half a century, and the milestone was celebrated by a concert arranged in his honor. He has done much in his own person and accomplishments in maintaining and expanding a love of music, and how much his efforts are appreciated was shown through the medium of the concert arranged for his musical jubilee. It is most fitting that those who go forth while things should be recognized in a gracious way. Mr. Dyke has devoted the greater part of his life to music, and in a self-sacrificing manner. He has the comfort of knowing that what he has been able to do is appreciated in a music-loving city.

To try too hard to make people good is one way to make them worse; the only way to make them good is to be good.—G. Macdonald.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

One picture may convey more than ten thousand words, states an Oriental adage, truly. This principle was adopted by a candidate for office in a platform appearance before a body of British Columbia electors this week, with telling effect. On one poster he displayed a donkey eagerly chasing a bunch of carrots tied at the end of a stick fastened to his own back. On another he had drawn proof of the simple addition of two and two, finding it still to be four. Had the candidate left it at that, it would have been sufficient to convey a complete message to the electorate. However, he went further, and showed by arithmetic that $100 cannot be subtracted from $95 without an awful lot of explanation. From there he went on to attack the A plus B theorem, but that is algebra.

The Virginia Academy of Science was told by a psychologist recently that the standing of children in one school had been increased from two to sixteen points by hypnotism. This was done, he said, by talking the students into a hypnotic state and then saying with emphasis: "As a result of this trance your powers of concentration will be greatly increased, your mind will work better—and you will have great ambition to be successful in your studies." Sixty-two students were tested, and five could not be hypnotized, he reported. Do you know, I believe the professor has got something there! Instead of hypnotizing the students, though, why not put the teacher into a trance, and then state: "You are now in a trance. When you mark the examination papers of all these children, you must remember you taught them, and, therefore, they must be right. You will give each and every one of them 100 marks; and such errors as they would appear to have made you will mark down to yourself as their teacher. In this, your powers of concentration will be greatly enhanced. You will be ambitious to pass the whole lot!" Moreover, just think what a professional politician could do with hypnotism, once he really got into a trance!

Between May 7 and May 8, states The New York Times, 102 persons were bitten by dogs in Chicago, bringing the gross total of bites up to 4,889, compared with 3,101 bites at this time last year. That is an extensive recovery. On the other hand, statistics seldom show the details of the case. Why were these people bitten? What had they been doing to the dogs? Were they proceeding in a quiet and orderly manner; or cavorting along with horns, confetti and joy bells? Also, what was the peak period of biting, by night or by day? In short, why do the dogs of a meat packing city bite anything so tasteless as a human being, let alone 4889 human beings? At that the figures are a little startling. The city at that rate seems to be going fast to the dogs!

The best story of the week is one from Niagara Falls, where an elderly couple celebrated their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary by a trip to the famous water falls. They had intended to take the trip on their honeymoon, fifty-seven years ago, but had been blocked in that desire at the time. Steadily the couple kept their promised trip in mind, and now after the greater part of a lifetime they had their ambition fulfilled. I like that. There is a staunchness and loyalty about it that speaks volumes for the happiness of the man and the woman who could go honeymooning after nearly six decades of close daily association. They may not have known it, but they were a more remarkable phenomenon than the sight they witnessed. It redeems one's faith in humanity to read of such an instance. Luck to the "bride" and to the "groom."

Under the slogan of "German youth belongs to the Fuehrer," all German women between the ages of seventeen and twenty-one have been drafted into a compulsory Nazi corps. They will wear mustard-colored blouses, navy blue skirts, and insignia on a regular uniform. They must attend camps, and receive training in physical culture, athletics, gymnastics, swimming, and folk dancing, and obey the mandates of the Nazi political organization. I shall be surprised if they do it.

Italy, that other home of the free, withdrew all her news correspondents from Great Britain during the Coronation, on the ground that the British press had been insulting Britain, however, did not appear to mind. With one-third of the world directly interested, and a great part of the balance as interested listeners, the Coronation proceeded fully to schedule. I'll bet even the Pitcairn Islanders sat up for the broadcast. Victoria is talking about it yet, to the exclusion of nearly all else; but Victoria had a correspondent at the Coronation, and a good one, too.

Garrison Won Trophy

The Vancouver Island Football Association Cup, emblematic of the soccer championship of the Island, was won by the Garrison thirty-two years ago. According to the inscription on the old "mug" the soldiers from Work Point Barracks captured it in 1905-06, the first season it was played for, and retained it the following season.—S.T.

The Coronation Coach

He was an amateur mechanic, and therefore interested in automotive power of all sorts. A friend found him poring over a reproduction of the Coronation coach which did not, by the way, show the horses. "You know," confessed the mechanic, "I can never figure out where they put the engine in the darn thing." Stanley Baldwin, according to a story by Canadian Press, has $9,000 pipes, most of them presented anonymously to him by admirers. Presuming that they are each worth two dollars (and that's a conservative estimate) the Prime Minister has a stock worth $18,000—a lot of money to go up in smoke.—B.G.

Let George Do It

Armed with a stout rod and a can of bait, Clubman Harry journeyed to the Inner Harbor to fish. After two hours of patient effort he accumulated over fifty baits. Tossing them into a sack, Harry walked back to the club and left the fish outside the building with instructions to all and sundry to help themselves. All but nine or ten fish were taken. Three days later clubmen noticed a terrible odor outside their premises. An investigation revealed the rotting fish. Walters debated who was to remove them to an ash can. Down the list they went until they arrived at George. Someone chirped: "Let George do it." So poor George had to take a handkerchief over his face and do away with the fish. Advice from the little dairymaid on Brougham Street: "If you are thin don't eat fast." We pass the first part along to our tobaccoist friend, but do not intend to follow the second sentence. Bill, the Broad Street barber, gave us the following definition: "A party platform in politics is like a bunker in golf. The rules require it, but you show your skill in avoiding it." Hint to a fellow-scribe who tootles a cornet with more volume than finesse: "The largest room in the world is—the room for improvement."—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Golfing warfare in the women's championship at the Colwood Club became intense on Tuesday last when the co-medalists were ushered into the first flight in the opening arguments. Mrs. A. C. Stickley, a twenty-two handicapper, surprised everybody by eliminating Mrs. B. R. Philbrick, who tied with Mrs. Zoe Huse for qualifying honors, by shooting a neat 88 to win on the last green. Then came along Mrs. H. F. Crowe, skipper at the club, to beat Mrs. Huse at the nineteenth green. "I was one of the best rounds of golf I have ever shot at Colwood," the genial captain told me after her victory. That Lewiston, Idaho, ball club in the Western International League, is sure traveling over a bumpy road. To date they have failed to get into the win column. Twenty-one straight setbacks is their record. What a reception they are going to get when they get home after this road trip. Late in the basketball season a girls' team came here from Headley to play a British Columbia final. Cage officials searched the map for the town and finally found it after many minutes. How that little town has crashed the headlines since, but not through its basketball team, but a very big mining "fiasco" which shook the province from north to south and from east to west. Gus Sonnenberg, former champion, is coming here Saturday to wrestle. Gus is the boy who put the mat game back on its feet after it started sliding badly when he introduced the "flying tackle" to the fans. Connie Mack is upsetting the early baseball dope by keeping his Athletics first or second day after day.—J.D.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of May 20, 1887)

Immigration for British Columbia—The steamship Vancouver left Liverpool on Saturday last. She had on board 175 persons of good character, selected by the society for the promotion of Christian knowledge; also twenty-two young gentlemen sent from Manchester, and seventy Norwegians, who intend establishing a fishing and farming colony at Comox. There are also on board a large number of German immigrants for this province. Before the Vancouver sailed, the Bishop of Liverpool offered words of instruction and advice and wished them God speed.

A Champion—Young Whistler, the champion wrestler of America, is in town having arrived here on Wednesday last. He had on board 175 persons of good character, selected by the society for the promotion of Christian knowledge; also twenty-two young gentlemen sent from Manchester, and seventy Norwegians, who intend establishing a fishing and farming colony at Comox. There are also on board a large number of German immigrants for this province. Before the Vancouver sailed, the Bishop of Liverpool offered words of instruction and advice and wished them God speed.

Pacific Coast Lights—Sir George Stephen and Sir Donald Smith interviewed Hon. Mr. Foster respecting lights on the Pacific Coast. The company's three steamers will inaugurate the steamship service between British Columbia and Japan the first of next month.

WORKING FOR BETTER ROADS

Malahat Board of Trade Will Petition for Improvement in Shawnigan

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, May 19.—W. Mudge, president, presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Malahat Board of Trade, held recently in the S.L.A.A. Hall, with a good attendance of members. A letter was read from the Comox-Cowichan board seeking aid in a campaign for cement highways to replace the present black surfacing of roads. The local board felt that this movement should have been started many years ago. H. C. Hawking, C. M. Robertson and F. M. Gannon were chosen to act as delegates to the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade to be held at Alberni on June 16 and 17.

In furtherance of the board's campaign for better roads in the district, the Minister of Public Works will again be petitioned for improvements on the Victoria-Cut-Off Road. Acting on the complaints of several property owners on the Millstream, the secretary will write to Major J. A. Motherwell, of the Fisheries Department, asking the reason for the closing of the upper waters of the stream for fishing. The board decided to sponsor an anglers' association and will put up an excellent cup for annual competition. Arrangements were reported well in hand for a dance to be held in the S.L.A.A. Hall on May 28.

At the annual meeting of the board, held last month, the retiring officers were re-elected, and with the addition of three new council members, are as follows: President, W. Mudge; vice-president, H. E. Hawking; secretary-treasurer, F. M. Gannon; council members, F. T. Bedford, D. Mason Hurley, N. H. Matthews, T. C. Mason, C. W. Lonsdale, A. H. Cox, W. E. Fraser, C. M. Robertson, W. Gray, A. J. Aitken, A. I. Dyson, Dr. G. More, Commander P. A. O. Leask, Lieutenant-Colonel F. T. Oldham, J. C. Davidson and R. B. Moulton.

ELECTION BAITS

Sir,—Some years ago it was customary to hold fishing competitions on the Thames above London by the Cockney bait fishermen of those parts, who thought it fine sport to sit on a chair in a punt and watch their floats, a can of beer by their side and a clay pipe in their mouth. They would meet at the tavern and, with a map of the river before them, mark off sections of the river which were numbered, and the numbers would then be drawn lots for by the contestants.

Sometimes a competitor more go by night and put "ground bait" liberally over his lot for the purpose of attracting the bream, carp, roach and other "coarse fish" from the adjacent waters.

Next day our knowledgeable sportsman (?) would sit on his chair in

It is one of the injustices of life, I suppose, that knowledge is not always rewarded. In ninety-nine out of 100 cases at the bridge table the logical course is the winning course, but in that hundredth case some weird and, often, amusing things can happen. Every beginner and weak player, if placed in declarer's position in the hand shown below, would rush home with the grand slam contract. The very fact that the actual declarer was an expert accounted for his defeat.

East's overall was of the type that causes experts to shudder. It certainly had fortunate repercussions for him, however, on this hand, it was so lucky as to find South with a hand too big for a double. South knew, of course, that he could severely defeat two clubs, but it did not seem worth while to double a nonvulnerable opponent when he himself could count on a sure small or grand slam and rubber.

After West had opened a club and the dummy was exposed, it seemed to declarer almost a sure thing that East must have the spade king as the only compensating honor for his miserable club bid. Thus, instead of blindly freezing against the spade queen for the thirteenth trick, South determined to squeeze East between clubs and spades. The club ace took the queen, and five rounds of hearts followed, declarer discarding two clubs and a spade. The diamond suit then was ruff, until South was reduced to the spade queen and the club jack.

One man who did this was found out. He had done so more than once and he was promptly warned off by his brother anglers, who would have nothing more to do with him.

Now at the present time Mr. Pattullo is flying around British Columbia "ground baiting" the various constituencies. The bait he uses is mostly promises of the piecrust variety—small grants here, small grants there. He is liberal—very liberal—distributing the taxpayers' money most liberally among his henchmen, whose vote will thus be made secure to keep him in power.

And you, Mr. Taxpayer, are paying for all this. Before he set out on his bird-like travels he made sure that his traveling allowance should be doubled. All his election propaganda, radio etc., is at the taxpayers' expense!

Now, citizens of Victoria, what is he plotting against you? I appeal to both Liberals and Conservatives to stand up for your rights. Public departments are being moved around, or rather have been moved, in an endeavor to make Vancouver the capital of British Columbia.

I know many Liberals in Victoria who have too much sense and honesty to stand for such an outrage and who will join hands in protecting the rights of "Victoria the beautiful," Capital City of British Columbia.

Therefore, I say, on June 1 sink your party politics and vote only for those who will uphold your right to be to the capital.

JO-JOTTE POINTER

When your opponent has declared a trump suit at Jo-Jotte, he is more likely than you to have command of the trump suit. Your object on most hands should be to razeze that situation by forcing him to trump your long side suits. But if he should counter by leading some suit which you must trump, be certain to make your tricks count for the maximum. As a general rule, you should use your highest trump for ruffing in order to win those points for yourself before your opponent wins them by drawing trumps. Naturally, it is not necessary to trump high when you have some such holding as jack-small in trumps. You can trump with the small card since the jack is certain to win a trick later on.

Albanian Troops Kill Six Rebels
ROME, May 19 (P).—Six rebels were killed and many wounded in a clash with Albanian Government troops near Kurvelesh yesterday. Stefani (Italian) News Agency dispatches from Tirana, capital of Albania, reported today.

The LZ130, designed as a sister ship to the Hindenburg, lost two weeks ago in the United States, had her metal skeleton nearly covered with fabric. Her pilot and motor gondolas, as well as the wireless cabin, were almost finished.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, May 19 (P).—Construction of Germany's new airship reached its final stages today.

The LZ130, designed as a sister ship to the Hindenburg, lost two weeks ago in the United States, had her metal skeleton nearly covered with fabric. Her pilot and motor gondolas, as well as the wireless cabin, were almost finished.

DEATH TAKES H. R. BEAVEN

Son of Former B.C. Premier
Well Known as Banker
And Horticulturist

Long prominent in the city as a banker, horticulturist and sportsman, Hugh Robert Beaven passed away suddenly on Tuesday night at his residence, 1176 Beach Drive, after a lengthy illness. A native son of Victoria, Mr. Beaven was born sixty-nine years ago, and was the eldest son of the late Hon. Robert Beaven, former Premier of British Columbia, and the late Mrs. Beaven.

For forty years he was connected with the Canadian Bank of Commerce, serving in branches in several parts of this province, including Nanaimo, where he spent a number of years. He was stationed at Portland for a time, and for some years before his retirement he was manager of the Douglas Street branch.

Mr. Beaven was a keen hunter and fisherman, and played golf as a member of the Victoria Golf Club. But his chief interest was in horticultural matters. While he was a lover of all flowers, his particular hobby was roses.

The rose garden at his residence was widely known for the number of varieties and the excellence of the blooms. His advice was much sought by growers, and he frequently acted as a judge at leading shows. Constantly on the lookout for new creations, he introduced many varieties to this city as soon as they were available.

For the past several years, Mr. Beaven's health forced him to give up his work in his garden and to curtail his activities as an horticulturist.

Mr. Beaven is survived by his widow and one sister, Viscountess Churchill, in England.

The funeral will take place on Friday at 2 p.m. at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Archdeacon Nunn officiating. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

HIS MAJESTY AT PORTSMOUTH TODAY

Dinner was served on the yacht shortly after the royal party, which also included Lord Mountbatten, went on board.

PORTSMOUTH EN FETE
Ashore Portsmouth fete visiting officers and seamen. Private yachts held gay parties. Lively parties also were held on liners which will serve tomorrow as "front row seats" for the review.

The liners Montrose and Royal Eagle are being used for Dominion and colonial guests and members of the Royal Empire Society. The Dilwara and Lancashire have been chartered by the Board of Trade. The Neutrality will carry Indian military contingents.

Gaily-festooned motor launches and cabin cruisers scooted in and out among the warships all day, giving their passengers a close view

Is Transferred by
C.B.C. to Ottawa

WILLIAM O. FINDLAY

WHO has been transferred from Vancouver to the Ottawa studios of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, is in Victoria making final preparations for his trip. Former secretary of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce and a member of the announcing staff at radio station CROV, Mr. Findlay has been appointed an assistant producer at Ottawa. He is leaving the city today and will commence his new duties Monday morning.

of the grim fortresses. Each arriving train disgorged crowds of Britons and visitors flocking to the review. The seaport was in full holiday dress.

First Lord of the Admiralty Sir Samuel Hoare made unofficial visits to several of the warships riding at anchor, including the Canadian destroyers Skeena and Saquaney, the New Zealand cruiser Leander and the sloop Indus of the Royal Indian Navy.

Earlier today the King and Queen drove through the rain to the Guildhall at London to receive homage from the "city"—the "one square mile" within the heart of the capital.

They broke with tradition by omitting the outdoor ceremony of receiving the ancient pearl sword at the Temple Bar from the Lord Mayor of London, due to the heavy rain.

They dashed another precedent by inviting the Lord Mayor and his wife to sit with them during a civic luncheon at the Guildhall. Traditionally the King's table is for members of the Royal Family.

The Archbishop of Canterbury pronounced a final luncheon grace, thanking God for "the love and loyalty that is now surrounding the King and Queen in the hearts of all their people."

Following the luncheon, the King made Sir George Broadbridge, the Lord Mayor, a Knight Commander of the Royal Victoria Order.

Before the drive to the City the King was given the Order of the Chrysanthemum at the command of Emperor Hirohito of Japan. Prince Chichibu, the Emperor's brother, made the presentation.

On the route from Buckingham Palace the King and Queen rode in a closed automobile, the King bareheaded. They smiled and nodded repeatedly to the cheering crowds. Queen Mary also received a tremendous reception from the thronged streets.

Pooley Denies Connell Behind Esquimalt C.C.F.

An announcement in The Federationist, C.C.F. newspaper published in Vancouver, that Rev. Robert Connell is supporting the C.C.F. candidate in Esquimalt was branded as a lie by R. H. Pooley, K.C., in a speech at Langford last evening.

Mr. Pooley, who is supporting the candidature of E. V. Finland in Esquimalt, said that Mr. Connell had authorized him to deny the assertion contained in the C.C.F. special election number, of which the editor is Don Smith, C.C.F. candidate in Esquimalt.

Mr. Finland and Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown also addressed the meeting.

HEPBURN HOST TO TWO FLYERS

Dick Merrill Has Narrow Escape When Landing On Toronto Field

TORONTO, May 19 (P).—None the worse for his near crack-up in landing here today, Dick Merrill, trans-Atlantic flyer, dined with Mitchell Hepburn, Ontario's Premier, tonight. Other guests were his co-pilot, Jack Lambie, and Ben Smith, New York broker and backer of Merrill's Coronation flight to London and return to New York.

A thousand persons who gathered to see the hero of two Atlantic crossings rushed toward the big silver monoplane after it almost cracked up after striking a mud-hole on the Toronto Flying Club field. The big ship bounded and swayed dangerously before coming down on its wheels.

CANCELS OTTAWA FLIGHT

Merrill had intended flying Premier Hepburn to Ottawa and back, but the return flight from the capital was canceled after Merrill's experience with Toronto landing fields.

He said he would never again bring a ship down on the field here unless it was in much different condition than today. The risk was too great.

"It's criminal. I wouldn't ask Dick Merrill to land on that field again," added Premier Hepburn.

RAIN BRINGS END TO DUST STORMS

Many Parts of Canadian Prairies Receive Showers After Earth-Filled Wind Drops

REGINA, May 19 (P).—Rain fell today in many parts of the Canadian Prairies, and was welcomed particularly in Southern Saskatchewan, where showers were general except in the southwestern drought area.

The Southern Saskatchewan rains came after yesterday's severe dust storm, which ranged from the Manitoba border west to Calgary and as far north as Edmonton.

Winds dropped, and the rains during the morning and afternoon in Southern Saskatchewan assisted in laying the billowing dust clouds. No precipitation was reported, however, in the dry southwest.

Cooper, Vancouver. The remains are resting at Sands Mortuary, Ltd., and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

APPEAL COURT UPHELD ORDER

Right of Plaintiff to Amend Claim for Damages Is Sustained

VANCOUVER, May 19 (P).—British Columbia Court of Appeal, in session here today, refused Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Ltd., leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada an order of Chief Justice Morrison, of the British Columbia Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Morrison's order gave M. Desbriay & Co. permission to amend its claim to recover $13,406 damages for canned salmon destroyed in a Canadian National Steamships dock fire here in 1930, by alleging negligence against the C.N.M.M.

Defendant opposed the amendment on grounds the claim was a new cause of action which was statute-barred after six years. The Court of Appeal upheld Chief Justice Morrison's order and dismissed defendant's appeal.

Legion W.A. Celebrates Coronation

A gay throng of 130 members and friends of the Women's Auxiliary to Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion, sat down to a Coronation supper last night, given by the Britannia W.A. in the clubrooms, View Street. Mrs. A. Hall, the president, welcomed the guests.

An entertaining programme was presented later in the evening and during this and the supper, Mr. Percy C. Payne acted as master of ceremonies. Before commencing supper, the gathering stood in two minutes' silence in memory of fallen comrades. The toast to the King was proposed by Mr. H. Thompson, and an address of welcome was given by Mrs. A. Hall.

In proposing the toast to the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service League, Mr. Jack Neary, president of Britannia Branch, remarked that a more patriotic gathering could not be found than at a Canadian Legion affair. He spoke of the continued support given by the women during the Great War and up to the present time. Mr. J. Blair, past president and life member of Britannia Branch, in replying, recalled the organizing and earlier days of the Great War Veterans.

PRESENTS PIN

A special feature of the evening was the presentation of the past president's pin to Mrs. E. Wait, by the new president, Mrs. Hall. Community singing, with Mrs. C. Badger as accompanist, was included in the programme. Mrs.

Could Hardly Rise From Her Chair

Rheumatism Relieved by Kruschen

This woman was such a confirmed sufferer from rheumatism that she thought she would never get relief. But before she had finished one bottle of Kruschen her rheumatism was leaving her. Here is her letter: "I had rheumatism so badly that once I got into a chair I found great difficulty in rising again. A friend told me to try Kruschen salts, but I thought it was a foolish idea, as there seemed to me to be nothing that would relieve rheumatism. My friend gave me two doses to try. I took one dose on Monday and another on Tuesday, and by then my pain had moved to another part of the body. Weigh that was a good start, so I bought a bottle and it gave me great joy to find my rheumatism disappearing, and now for a long time I have been free." (Miss) A.R.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently due to deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. Kruschen salts, by helping to stimulate the excretory organs to healthy, regular activity, enables them to expel this uric acid from the system. (Adv.)

Badger, accompanying herself, sang "The Veterans' Song." Miss Middleton, accompanied by Joyce Morrison, sang "The Shell" and "Sweet Scented Hawthorne." Mrs. H. Jones sang "Now We Have to Call Him Father," which was most popular, as were also the variety songs sung by Mrs. E. Finn as "Pat Kelly," "The End of the Road" and "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," were the songs chosen by Mrs. C. Ford. All the old favorites, together with "Land of Hope and Glory" and "Rule Britannia," were included in the community singing programme.

SPECIAL DECORATIONS

Coronation colors were carried out on the tables, red tulips, white lilac, narcissi, violets and iris being effectively used in silver and crystal vases. Red and blue streamers ran the length of the tables, which were covered with white linen tablecloths, the head table being covered with a specially embroidered Coronation cloth made by Miss Joyce Norris. The decorations were the work of Mrs. J. Blair, Mrs. H. Thompson and Mrs. W. Drinkle.

Mrs. A. Norris was the general convener and Mrs. E. Finn was in charge of tickets. Assisting in the kitchen were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. A. Dawes and Mrs. L. Quaintance, and helping with the serving were Miss Agnes Finn and Miss Vera Granrose.

Weddings

GIBSON-STREETON

Tulips and narcissi were arranged in Our Lady of Lourdes Church, the Willows, for the wedding of Kathleen Patricia, only daughter of Mrs. O. Streeton, 2642 Shelbourne Street, and the late Mr. Streeton, and Mr. Stanley Percival Gibson, youngest son of Mrs. E. F. Gibson, 1938 Brighton Avenue, formerly of Hongkong, and the late Mr. Gibson, which took place last evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Father Scheelen officiating. Miss May Waugh presided at the organ, and during signing of the register, Mrs. V. J. Baines sang Gounod's "Ave Maria." The charming bride was given away by her brother, Mr. George Streeton, and wore a smart grey tailored suit, with a salmon colored blouse, and grey accessories, adorned with a corsage spray of Ophelia roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Attending her was Miss Clara Krubinski in a navy blue suit, a white blouse and navy accessories, wearing a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and sweet peas. Mr. Frank Dixon was best man. A small reception was held after the service at the home of the bride's mother in a setting of mixed flowers. The supper table was centred with the wedding cake, which was surmounted with two tiny silver bells, and stood between tall vases filled with red peonies, tulips and lilac. Mrs. Streeton wore a brown frock of silk crepe and brown hat, and Mrs. Gibson was dressed in black. They both wore corsage bouquets of carnations. After a honeymoon on the Island, the bride and groom will make their home on Summit Avenue.

Metropolitan W.M.S.

Rev. G. A. Reynold's was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Metropolitan W.M.S. held in the schoolroom, his theme being the combatting of intemperance. The president, Miss G. Baker, occupied the chair, and after the opening, a silent tribute was paid to the memories of Mrs. Pendray and Mrs. Stacey, members removed by death since the last meeting. The strangers' secretary, Mrs. F. T. Cliff, reported seventy-seven calls made on sick, shut-ins and strangers. Mrs. Redman, a new member, was welcomed. Mrs. F. T. Cliff and Mrs. O. M. Brown were appointed for visiting among the Hindus. Also four volunteers for hospital visitation for the month of August were solicited. Mrs. Holland thanked Mr. Reynolds for his inspiring address. The soloist was Miss Phyllis Deaville, whose rendering of "The Little Black Sheep" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd," was much appreciated. A story from "Far Horizon" was beautifully told by Miss F. Braik. Mention was made of the tea to be held in the Oriental Home on June 24.

Breakfast Club

The monthly meeting of the Victoria Credit Women's Breakfast Club took place at the Dominion Hotel yesterday morning, with Miss Helena Butterfield presiding. A special Coronation breakfast was arranged and each place was marked by a small Union-Jack. Miss Sadie Craig, of the Underwood Elliott Fisher Limited, gave an interesting talk on the typewriter and how it opened the field of business for women. Mr. L. Evenden, of the Hudson's Bay Company, introduced Mr. G. A. A. Hebdien, of Diggon-Hibben, who spoke on "Co-operation and Interdependence." Miss Butterfield gave a report on the convention of the Pacific Northwest Council of Credit Women, which she recently attended in Seattle. It was announced that Miss Jean Drysdale and Miss Grace Revcomb would represent the Victoria club at the silver anniversary convention of the National Retail Credit Association, which is to be held at Spokane in June. Nomination of officers for the elections to be held in June took place at the meeting.

Second Mile Club

At the regular meeting of the Second Mile Club, held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Permain, Cook Street, the members decided to provide a full layette for an expectant mother, details of which were left in the hands of Mrs. Waller. Mrs. Bishop was chosen as delegate to the B.W.M.S. convention to be held in Vancouver on June 9, with Mrs. Middleton as alternate. Reports of the rummage sale held last month were given. Mrs. McGill introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. A. S. Imrie, who spoke of the life of the Japanese philosopher, Kagawa, and gave some very descriptive highlights of this great man's life. He is known in his own country as the "founder of God movement in Japan," and his aim in life is to win a million souls for Christ. Refreshments were served from an attractively-appointed supper table, presided over by Mrs. Richards, assisted by Mesdames McGill, Leahy and Dodsworth. The next meeting will be at Mrs. McGill's home on Monday, June 14.

Wilkinson Road W.A.

There was a large attendance at the monthly meeting of the W.A. to Wilkinson Road United Church at the home of Rev. William and Mrs. Allan, Glyn Road. Mrs. J. Hoy presided. Encouraging reports were presented with regard to the luncheons held recently at the homes of Mrs. N. McGillivray, Prospect Lake, and of Mrs. J. Hoy, Wellington Road. Arrangements were made for the presentation of a play, entitled "Shadow Mystery," which will be given at the Royal Oak Community Hall on Thursday, June 3, by members of the Metropolitan Y.P.S. Dramatic Club. Arrangements were also made for a silver tea to be held at the parsonage on Wednesday, June 9. Tea was served by Mrs. Allan, assisted by Mrs. J. Hoy and Mrs. A. J. Rainer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Allison, Loeholme Road.

Pythians Sisters

Pythian Sisters, Island Temple No. 8, were entertained recently at a Coronation tea given by Mrs. J. A. McAllister. A social evening was enjoyed, during which guessing games were played, and later refreshments were served. The prize winners were Mesdames L. Hockley, O. Carter and G. Winters. Mrs. Leslie Grant left on Monday to attend the Grand Lodge convention, which is being held at Vernon. Mrs. McKay and Miss Allison gave a delightful bridge party for the sisters and friends on Tuesday. The prizes were won by the following: First, Mrs. Gray; second, Mrs. L. Hockley, and consolation, Mrs. I. Harper.

Silver Tea

The social committee of the First Spiritualist Church will hold a silver tea in the Liberal Rooms, corner of Russell and Skinner Streets, tomorrow afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. Mrs. Youson, Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Johnson will entertain with readings. Mr. Walter Holder will be also present with his crystal.

St. Matthias' Guild

A card party will be held this evening by St. Matthias' Guild in the church hall at 8 o'clock. All members of the congregation and their friends are asked to attend.

Orange Association

Pride of Victoria No. 55, Orange Juvenile Association, will meet in the Orange Hall on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Pro Patria W.A.

The W.A. to Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, will hold a Coronation card party in the clubrooms tonight at 8 o'clock.

NANAIMO, May 19.

Mrs. M. Collishaw, Five Acres, mother of Colonel Raymond Collishaw, Canada's ace flyer, has presented a pennant of the colonel's regiment in Egypt, where he is doing emergency work for the Empire, to the Raymond Collishaw Chapter, I.O.D.E., recently organized here, and of which Miss L. Squire is the first regent.

NOBODY ENJOYS TAKING MEDICINE!

Yet most people at some time suffer from common constipation. Why not correct this condition the natural way—by including a ready-to-eat cereal with your daily meals instead of taking weakening pills and drugs?

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds the "bulk" the average system needs. In the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft, spongelike mass—which gently cleanses the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B to tone up the intestines and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls a day, as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into appetizing muffins, breads, etc. Three times daily in severe cases.

ALL-BRAN is sold at all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

Acts on Dance Committee

MISS JEAN CAMPBELL

Vice-president of the Junior W.A. of the Jubilee Hospital, is a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the dance to be held tomorrow evening at the Brentwood Badminton Club Hall under the auspices of the auxiliary. In addition to the dance programme, there will be a special number in which Miss Margery Benson will sing and Misses Wynne Shaw and Phyllis Addison will dance a tarantelle.

SHORTHAND AWARDS

Miss Muriel Carter and Miss Muriel Campbell have distinguished themselves in the field of shorthand presented by Sir Isaac Pitman's Sons, Toronto. Miss Carter received a silver pin and Miss Campbell a bronze pin, while Miss Lillian Cooper, Miss Hazel Smethurst, Miss Beatrice Hoffmeister, Miss Edith Hitchman and Miss Emma Gower were presented with certificates. The girls are members of the Y.W.C.A. stenographers' practice class held at the Victoria High School in co-operation with the Department of Education and the Victoria School Board.

A recommended list of stenographers is being prepared from this group to be sent to the business offices in the city. Those who proved themselves up to a good standard in their work are included on this list.

GAMBIE ISLAND CONFERENCE

A group of twelve is to represent the Victoria Y.W.C.A. girls' department at the British Columbia regional conference being held this week-end on Gambia Island. Those who will attend are Miss Edna Teagle, Frances Wood, Olive Malda, Nellie Cameron, Jean Drummond, Allison Smith, Muriel Campbell, Beatrice Yates, Alvina Brewster, Betty Mowatt, Wilma Graham and Margaret Ryan. This will be a two-day conference, shared with the other British Columbia associations. Similar conferences are being held throughout Canada by the girl members. The Victoria group is in charge of the discussion period, "The Christian Emphasis in the Y.W.C.A.," and the fireside vesper service Sunday evening. They are also planning table arrangements and a programme for the "World Y Luncheon," Monday, during which Miss Mabel Blackley, recently back from the area conference in Toronto, will give sidelights on the conference.

Y.W.C.A. GIRLS' COUNCIL

A council supper meeting has been called for this evening, at 6:15 o'clock. Camp plans and group activity during the Summer months will be under discussion. The tag day party has been set for June 4, but tag day June 5 will be an item of business.

SYLVANGLEN AND GALIANO

After weeks of thought and preparation, the camp committee has made encouraging progress in promoting the camps among the senior girls in the city. An attempt has been made to let every senior girl in the city know of the excellent camping facilities arranged for July at Camp Sylvanglen, on Glen Lake, and for August on Galiano Island. If any have been missed, folders and other information are obtainable at the Y.W.C.A. office. It is requested that applications be submitted at the earliest convenience as accommodation is limited.

Other Summer club programmes will include beach parties and week-

EMMANUEL

The young people of First Baptist Church, Nanaimo, took charge of the weekly meeting of the Emmanuel Y.P.U., on Tuesday evening. Members of Douglas Street and First Baptist Y.P.U. were invited and attended in full strength. Rev. Mr. Barner, minister of the Nanaimo church, addressed the young people, taking as his theme, "A Perfect Saviour." Miss Mildred McGill, Nanaimo, gave the Scripture reading, and Alex Hall, of Emmanuel Baptist, led the singing. Nanaimo young people were heartily thanked for making the trip especially to take the meeting. Refreshments were served.

DOCTORS CHECK KIDNEYS FIRST

Because they know that healthy kidneys remove from the blood the waste matter—the excess acids and poisons—formed by the over-cholesterol-laden body as it decays and rebuilds itself. But if the kidneys fail, illness surely follows. Backache, Rheumatism, Impure Blood, Lack of Energy, Too Frequent Urination, Sleeplessness, Headaches—all may result from faulty kidneys. As a health safeguard—so a wise precaution—regulate your kidneys frequently with Dodd's Kidney Pills—for over fifty years the favorite kidney remedy—non-habit forming—safe.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

LUXTON AND HAPPY VALLEY

The Luxton and Happy Valley Institute held its monthly meeting at Luxton Hall, Mrs. Trace in the chair. The usual business was transacted, and letters read from the Solarium and from the Travelers' Aid. It was decided to hold one more card party, the date to be announced later. On Friday, members and friends of the institute attended a Coronation ceremony at the school grounds, where Mrs. Trace planted a seedling of royal oak. Mr. C. Walker, of the board of school trustees, gave an appropriate address, and Mr. A. Hankin also spoke, as well as Mrs. Trace. The children sang "O Canada," "The Maple Leaf" and "God Save the King."

ROYAL OAK

There were twelve tables in play at the special Coronation card party.

Gifts Received On Hospital Day

SALTSpring ISLAND, May 18.—Hospital Day, with its shower of over two hundred gifts and promises of several more to follow, was held on Saturday at the Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital at Oanges. The afternoon was successfully organized by the ladies of the hospital auxiliary. As reception committee the president, Mrs. O. J. Moust, and the matron, Miss Margaret Ross, welcomed the visitors on arrival.

The floral decoration of the institute was carried out most effectively with magnificent tulips, shading from pale pink to deep rose and arranged with white lilac. The flowers were the gifts of Mrs. Frank Scott, Mrs. N. W. Wilson, Mrs. W. Stacey and the Misses Hamilton. The shower included groceries, linen, china, glass, preserved fruits, farm produce of all kinds and a large box filled by and brought from the residents of Galiano by Mrs. A. Soones, formerly an active member of the auxiliary. The gifts were received and displayed by Mrs. A. Inglis, Mrs. Frank Crofton, Mrs. W. Stacey and Mrs. N. W. Wilson.

Tea was served at small tables on the veranda under the supervision of Mrs. A. Inglis, with a committee including Mrs. P. Lowther, Mrs. M. B. Moust, Mrs. E. Parsons, Mrs. C. Seymour, Mrs. W. Palmer, Mrs. C. W. Baker and Mrs. L. Moust.

A doll dressed and donated by Miss New, of Galiano, was sold for $5.00, the sum to purchase a chair for one of the upstairs hospital rooms.

Teacup reading continued during the afternoon and was undertaken by Mrs. Ross Young. The ladies of the auxiliary thank all who helped so generously towards making the day one of the most successful held in the hospital.

Correspondents All Over World Ask Information

Inquiries from many points continue to pour into the office of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau. While the majority of letters and cards are requests for general information, other details are often required.

A correspondent from Keenesburg, Colorado, who is also a numismatist, yesterday asked for "samples of Canadian currency." A Toronto resident wants to know how to cross Canada to Victoria. From Graine-Comte, Belgium, comes a request for information relative to a short stopover in Victoria, and descriptive matter is wanted from such widely separated locations as Sinaloa, Mexico; Richmond, Surrey, England; and Bayswater, Western Australia.

A brief survey of letters received during the last three days showed those bearing postmarks of Coulee Dam, Washington; Des Moines, Iowa; Regina, St. Louis, Havana; Westboro, Ontario; Alameda, Barstow, Texas; Gary, Ont., and Brookings, South Dakota.

A Portland correspondent asked details regarding dancing at Island resorts; another, from East Weymouth, Massachusetts, wanted information about "country hotels and inns"; while a third, from Kamloops, asked for a map of Victoria.

REACH FINAL AT COLWOOD

Mrs. Mackenzie and Mrs. Dowell Will Meet Today For Golf Honors

Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie and Mrs. Art Dowell will meet this afternoon over the eighteen-hole distance for the women's championship of the Royal Colwood Golf Club. Yesterday they hurried their way into the final by impressive victories. The former came through on the last green, one up, while Mrs. Dowell eliminated Mrs. H. F. Crown, women's captain, 4 and 3. They tee off at 1 o'clock.

Finishing up with two sevens, Mrs. A. C. Stickley lost a great chance to reach the last bracket. She was two up at the fourteenth when Mrs. Mackenzie appeared to have the match in the bag, but the tide changed as the pair stroked their way towards the clubhouse. Mrs. Mackenzie won the fifteenth, halved the next and then won the sixteenth to square the battle. A six on the home green gave Mrs. Mackenzie the match. The winner was leading as the turn, one up, being out in 45 to her opponent's 46. One feature of the argument was the birdie four on the long fourteenth by Mrs. Stickley. Mrs. Mackenzie shot a 99, against a 92 for Mrs. Stickley.

MRS. DOWELL ADVANCES
Although she had a six, seven and an eight on her outgoing card, Mrs. Dowell reached the halfway distance five up on 17's. Crowe. The club captain hit a streak of wildness and failed to overcome it during the match. Mrs. Crowe won the eleventh and fourteenth holes to stay in the running, but Mrs. Dowell came back and took the next hole.

DRAW RELEASED FOR MEDAL TEST

Several upsets by those not even considered a chance to win the title. Secretary Price stated yesterday that the course is open to competitors for practice today. He also announced that a small fee will be charged spectators during the meet. Proceeds from the tournament will go to help defray expenses of a Victoria representative traveling East as a member of the Willingdon Cup team, which will carry the province's colors in the annual inter-provincial match. The local golfer will also compete in the Canadian amateur meet while in the East.

KING'S PLATE SET SATURDAY

Canadian Turf Classic Will Be Held in Toronto—Track May Be Heavy

TORONTO, May 19 (P)—The trail leading to the King's Plate, Canadian turf classic, curved into the stretch today with indications more than a dozen thoroughbreds would battle over a mile and a furlong Saturday for His Majesty's fifty guineas.

Hopes for a fast track have been dimmed by Spring rains, and most owners and trainers need a fast track for their color-bearers. But Bill Bringle and Arthur Brent, who train the big "G" guns—Gold-lure and Golden Silence—watch overhanging clouds and snicker.

Rain and more rain is the motto of Brent, trainer for the Brindale Stable, which also has Sandman and Fore Lass ready to answer the starter's bell. Golden Silence, pick of the trip, is Brent's big threat on a muddy track.

CAPTURED PLATE

The three-year-old chestnut gelding, rose from little better than average player ranks last year to among the top-flight juveniles. His greatest race came in the Fall when he romped through mud fetlock deep to win the Clarendon Plate. When he hit a fast track in the Coronation Stakes, he failed to show the same front-running ability and was beaten badly by Pagan King.

Fore Lass and Sandman have worked well for the historic event. Goldlure, along with Bedron and Goiter, was nominated by H. C. Hatch as his threat to retain the Guinness he won last year with Mon-sweep. Only Goldlure is reckoned as a possible starter. He started five times and won three and placed second.

The Coronation Stakes was the only race in which he ran out of the money. In the Clarendon Plate he finished second in the mud.

Peden Brothers In Fifth Place In English Race

LONDON, May 20 (P)—Emile Diot and Emile Ignat, of France, took the leadership early today in London's six-day bicycle race as the grind in Wembley Stadium entered its fourth day.

The French riders were tied in distance with Jimmy Wal-thour, New York, and Al Cross-ey, Boston, at the 1,033-mile mark at 2:30 a.m., but had 187 sprint points to 84 for the Americans.

A lap behind were Piet Van Kempen, the burly Hollander, and Henri Buysse, of Belgium, with 491 points, and the Italian duo of Mosti and Eduardo Georgetti.

The Victoria, B.C., pair of Torchy and Doug Peden were another lap behind with 108 sprint points. They shared fifth place with Charlier and De Paum, a European team.

Last night the Peden brothers crashed heavily while relieving in an intense jam and were aided from the track. They returned after treatment, though nursing wounds.

Letters to the Editor

BACK UP CLUBS

The Sports Editor.
Dear Sir:—Apropos of the letter appearing in your issue of this date, re the management of the representative United football team, permit me to voice not only my own sentiment but the sentiment of many others of the enthusiasts and supporters of our United football team, that we are heartily in accord with the managers of the local team re the management of the team to represent the city against the visiting Charlton team.

The majority of the local football fans are unanimous in their opinion that the Victoria United have been well managed in the past, and as their record shows this season, most successfully, and the selection of two who have taken no part in their success is worthy of a vigorous protest from every supporter of the game, who are keenly looking forward to seeing their team in action against such a formidable foe, realizing that if our local reps put on as good a show as seen against Nainimo last year, that it will be a game worth remembering.

Yours truly,
JAMES ROBINSON,
Postoffice Box 1198, Victoria, B.C., May 19, 1937.

CLOSING SCORES

Sussex, 318 for five wickets (E. Davies 139, Dyson 126, Turnbull 81 not out), vs. Leicestershire; at Leicester.

Gloucestershire 246 (Crapp 51), vs. Middlesex; at Bristol.

Oxford University 215 (Klimpton 72, Singleton 75, Nixon 67, Cowie six for 50); New Zealanders 95 for four wickets; at Oxford.

Rain prevented play in the matches between Essex and Surrey, at Chelmsford, and Cambridge University and Nottinghamshire, at Cambridge.

COMPETITION HELD AT ARDMORE LINKS

SIDNEY, May 19.—Women members of the Ardmore Golf Club played in the Spring Handicap Cup competition this week. The trophy was presented by Mrs. Gamble, and the Spring-spoon by Miss Evelyn Gwynne. Mrs. W. Sisson won the qualifying round and Miss Diana Fraser captured the cup. Miss Betty Broadhurst was runner-up.

The championship flight was won by Miss Carmen Macdowall, with Miss Evelyn Gwynne as the runner-up. First flight honors went to Miss Patricia Gibson, and Mrs. Taylor was next.

The Spring spoon competition for those players without official handicaps was won by Mrs. Townsend, with Mrs. Turner as the runner-up. The prizes for these two competitions were presented at the club by Mrs. R. J. Gwynne.

FREEMAN WILL OPPOSE HINDU

New Yorker and Harman Singh Booked for Semi-Windup Saturday

India's latest wrestling ambassador, giant Harman Singh, who has been doing quite well for himself in the grunt and groan business on the Pacific Coast, will be back at the Tillicum gymnasium, the place where he made his Canadian debut, Saturday evening.

Fred Richardson, local impresario, yesterday booked the colorful East Indian for the semi-windup of his holiday show, and at the same time landed Herbie Freeman, 265-pound New Yorker, as his opponent. The boys are scheduled to go five eight-minute rounds or the best of three falls.

Singh has defeated some of the leading heavyweights in the game since his arrival in Victoria a few months ago. His performances are pleasing and the way the big Hindu has taken to the new style of grappling is puzzling, even to the promoters.

Freeman, despite his 265 pounds, has many unorthodox tricks and is certainly not adverse to using them. He has shown here before, and while not the best performer to come to these parts, he has provided some good entertainment.

Top on the programme go to "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, former heavyweight champion, and Donald "Honeychild" Clarke, likeable Bostonian, who last week grappled with James Casey Morrissey, the ex-shadow. They are billed for eight ten-minute rounds.

The special event and the local preliminary, yet to be added, will complete the card. The first bout will start at 8:30 o'clock.

FIGHTER'S HANDS ARE FOUND FIT

TORONTO, May 19 (P)—Fears of broken hands held by Canada's new welterweight boxing champion, Frankie Green, of Toronto, and Gordon Wallace, of Vancouver, former titleholder, have vanished. X-ray photographs taken yesterday show that both boxers only suffered severe bone bruises in their bout last Monday.

Elated at taking the decision over the Vancouver veteran, the young Italian was certain he had broken his hand in the scrap and was afraid he would be on the shelf for some time. Wallace, fearing a similar injury, was also despondent, as he has been assured first crack at Genovese in a return bout.

Canada's exports of non-ferrous metals in March were valued at $24,219,000 compared with $13,950,000 in March a year ago.

PRO TOURNEY SET MONDAY

Professional Golfers to Bid For Title at Pittsburgh Club Next Week

NEW YORK, May 19 (P)—All of the "big names" of professional golf except Walter Hagen will be on hand next Monday for the annual P.G.A. championship at the Pittsburgh Field Club.

"The Maig" named non-playing captain of this year's American Ryder Cup team, will miss both the pro tourney, which he has won five times, and the United States Open next month at Birmingham, Mich. He has been playing in Australia and will join his team in England for the matches with the British June 29 and 30.

The two national champions of 1936 top the 116-man field. One is Denny Shute, modest, quiet-spoken veteran from Massachusetts, who won the P.G.A. at Pinehurst last November. The other is Tony Manero, the crisp-hitting New York-born campaigner who, since he took the open title at Baltusrol last June, also has moved to Massachusetts.

Though the sixty-four low scorers in the two-day thirty-six-hole qualifying round will be eligible for the match play starting on Wednesday, actually only sixty-three positions will be available. Shute is competing in the preliminary test merely because he has a chance at the Alex Smith Memorial Trophy which goes to the low man and, as defending champion, is automatically eligible for the man-to-man combat.

CATCHER FERRELL ON INJURED LIST

BOSTON, May 19 (P)—Boston Red Sox lost their third-ranking slugger for at least two weeks today when X-rays revealed that Catcher Rick Ferrell had a fractured throwing hand. He suffered the injury in Washington yesterday while trying to catch a foul tip.

Gene Desautels, thirty-year-old rookie from San Diego, and Moe Berg will divide the catching assignments until Ferrell's fracture knits.

Manager Joe Cronin has high hopes of getting back into the lineup tomorrow. He was "beamed" by Pinky Higgins during yesterday's pre-game practice at Washington.

WILL TOUR EUROPE

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., May 19 (P)—North Battleford Beavers, Canadian Allan Cup finalists this Spring, have accepted the British Ice Hockey Association invitation to tour Europe next Winter. It was announced here today.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association has given the club permission for the tour and Beavers will leave early in October, returning in January, 1938, and take part in the Northern Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League schedule.

Beavers lost the Canadian senior championship to Sudbury Tigers in a five-game series in Calgary in April.

CAPTURES STAKES

MANCHESTER, May 19 (P)—The Earl of Carnarvon's His Grace today won the Royal Standard Stakes over one and a quarter miles, defeating the Aga Khan's Manager, Toot by a short head. Sir Victor Sasson's Irresistible, one and a half lengths behind Manager Toot, was third.

Ten started in the race for three- and four-year-olds. The winner, a

Hubbell Gains 4-1 Victory Over Dean In National League

Giants' Star Moundsman Chalks Up Twenty-Second Straight Win at Expense of Cards' Ace Pitcher—Free-for-All in Ninth Inning—Pirates Lose to Phils—Athletics Lose

NATIONAL LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, May 19 (AP).—Carl Hubbell, bested Dizzy Dean in the "pitchers' battle of the century" today before 26,399 fans, hurling the New York Giants to a 4-1 victory over the Cardinals in a game featured by a ten-minute free-for-all fight between the two teams. Ducky Medwick's seventh homer of the year, in the second inning, was the only card run, as Hubbell, winning his sixth straight victory of the season and his twenty-second over a two-season stretch, limited the Gas House gang to six hits, fanned seven and did not issue one base on balls.

Dean allowed the Giants seven hits, all singles, fanned four and walked two. The Giants reached him for three runs in the sixth inning, all coming after the umpires ruled he had balked in his pitching motion on a pitch on which Dick Bartell flied out.

The free-for-all broke out in the Giants' half of the ninth, with Dean and Jimmy Rippel, Giants' sophomore outfielder, starting the swinging. When things quieted down, the Giants scored their final run, Rippel getting credit for a single and coming home on a pinch-double by Harry Danning.

The fight started after Rippel had been thrown out at first base in a play in which Dean went over to help Johnny Mize cover the bag. As soon as they started swinging, the whole Giant team came out of the dugout and swung into action with the Cardinals, who were already on hand.

Umpires and uniformed city policemen jumped into the middle of the milling players in an effort to break it up.

Philles Beat Pirates
PITTSBURGH, May 19 (AP).—Dolf Camelli, Phils' first baseman, stole home today in the ninth inning while Mack Brown, Pirate relief hurler, was winding up, and the Philles nosed out the Pirates, 5-4, in the second game of their Pittsburgh series.

Brandt was charged with the Pirates' defeat, his first of the season, in which he has hurled three victories.

Bees Sting Reds
CINCINNATI, May 19 (AP).—With four-hit pitching of rookie Lou Fette, the Boston Bees took advantage of errors tonight to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 1, in the first night game of the major league season. A crowd of 19,565 saw the contest.

American League
PHILADELPHIA, May 19 (AP).—Tommy Bridges, knocked out of the box at Detroit May 10, came back today to shut out the league-leading Athletics with five hits as the Detroit Tigers defeated Connie Mack's team for the first time in five starts, 9-0.

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP).—The St. Louis Browns uncorked a five-run barrage in the ninth inning here today that drove Buck Newsum from the box, but their drive fell a trifle short of overthrowing Washington's early lead, and the Senators won their second straight game from the Browns, 9-5.

HEAVY SCORING IN BALL GAMES

Softballers Run Up High Scores in League Tussles—Five Matches Tonight

With two of the "C" section games decided by the odd run, eight Lower Island Softball Association tussles were played yesterday evening.

Cameron Lumber Company turned in a smart performance at Savory Park, where they trounced the Navy, 9-1, in a "B" section encounter.

Other scores in this division were: Colwood Wood Company 8, Marigold 3.
Hollywood Club 11, Saanichton 4.
Civil Service 28, Sons of Canada 18.

MILLIONAIRES WIN

Pushing across the deciding tally in the ninth frame, Esquimalt Millionaires nosed out Bell Barbers, 7-6, in a keenly-fought game at Bullen Park, while at the Memorial Park, Palais de Danse eked out a 15-14 triumph over the Victoria Brass & Iron Works nine.

Manager Ed Corbett's Times softballers turned in their best performance of the early season's play and trounced the Moose, 25-14, at Heywood Avenue. The newspaper nine drove across six runs in the initial frame and were never headed.

At Spencer's Park, Saanich Aces

Soars to New Record

Bill Sefton, ace University of Southern California pole vaulter, is pictured above in graceful flight as he cleared the bar recently at the record height of 14 feet 8 1/2 inches, breaking his own previous world record by more than an inch. Sefton's amazing performance, a feature of U.S.C.'s 74-56 track triumph over Stanford at Palo Alto, was equaled immediately afterward by his teammate, Earl Meadows, who vaulted higher than 14 feet 5 inches.

showed the Royal Canadians under a 30-4 setback.

All four encounters were in the "C" section.

TONIGHT'S DRAW

SOCCER TEAMS PLAY TO DRAW IN CUP FINAL

Hudson's Bay and Navy Battle to 1-1 Overtime In Fast Game

With each team scoring once in the initial stanza, Hudson's Bay and the Navy battled to a 1-1 overtime draw in the Rennie & Taylor Cup final yesterday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park.

Bays went one goal up in the first ten minutes when Fogden picked the far corner of the goal after Dovey, sailor fullback, miskicked while attempting to clear.

Hudson's Bay had the better of the early play, but after the first tally, Bill Mundie, back in the Navy goal after a lay-off because of cracked ribs, closed the gate for the afternoon and the green-and-gold-sweated lads found it impossible to increase their total.

Sailors fought hard for the equalizer and were finally rewarded when Alex Ross, centre forward, tapped the leather and it bounced over Wyatt's head. Navy pressed for many minutes before they scored and only the alertness of Renfrew, Bays' net custodian, prevented earlier scoring.

Walker, capped Hudson on the sailor line-up soon after the goal.

GOAL DISALLOWED

Navy made it 2-1 when Ross headed home following a corner, but the tally was disallowed because of a foul.

With the wind at their backs, attacked strongly as the final half opened, but Mundie was safe, while Cockrill and Dovey, Navy fullbacks, were clearing well.

Sailors had some excellent chances to win the game, but lacked pep in their attack. At the other end Hudson's Bay fired many shots at Mundie, who turned everything aside in grand style.

There was no scoring in the overtime.

McMillan refereed and the teams were:

Hudson's Bay—Renfrew, O'Connell, Wyatt, Ferguson, Kennedy, Williams, Fish, McBride, Fogden, Preston and Oakman.

Navy—Mundie, Cockrill, Dovey, Sands, Robinson, Hutton, Brown, Mark, Ross, Watt, De Costa and Walker.

GOLF TOURNEY AT SALTSRING

Annual Event Will Start on Saturday and Continue Until Monday

Play in the annual 'open golf championships of the Gulf Islands will get under way at the Salt-spring Island Club on Saturday, and will continue until the title-holders are named on May 24.

Male shotmakers will tee-off at 1 o'clock and will be gunning for the Matson Cup, presented for annual play by the late Jack Matson; while the women players will be seeking the Carmichael Rose Bowl.

Dermott K. Crofton will be defending the men's championship, and Miss Shirley Wilson is the present women's titleholder.

Concurrent with the qualifying rounds, there will be a men's and women's handicap events over eighteen holes. Dave Pyrie, Sr., will be defending the V. Case-Morris Cup in the men's division, and Mrs. W. F. Evans will be out to repeat her victory in the Wenger Cup event. Both these competitions are for Saltspring members only. Prizes will go to winners of the various flights.

SEVEN SOFTBALL GAMES SATURDAY

Sunday School Softball League games carded Saturday are as follows:

SENIOR SECTION
Metropolitan vs. St. Aidan's, Savory Park; umpire, John Galloway.
First United Tigers vs. Andrews, Victoria West Park; umpire, Dave Pyrie.
Shelbourne Street Baptists vs. St. Alban's, Central Park; umpire, J. McNaughton.
Lake Hill vs. Centennial, Heywood Park; umpire, Bill Houston.

All games to commence at 6 o'clock.

Football Meeting

The annual meeting of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association will be held in the Colonial board room on Wednesday, May 26, at 7:30 o'clock. Officers for the coming season will be named and reports submitted. All clubs are asked to have representatives present, if possible.

DRAW IS RELEASED FOR MEDAL TEST AT UPLANDS GOLF CLUB

Thirty-Four of Leading Shotmakers in Province Will Tee Off in Qualifying Round—Post Entries Will Be Accepted—Ken Black Will Defend His Championship Honors

British Columbia's big guns of golf will be going for the provincial amateur championship tomorrow at the Uplands Club.

Secretary A. V. Price announced the draw—and starting times yesterday and in doing so stated that thirty-four, including nine outsiders, will face the starter.

With post entries being received today and tomorrow, the field is expected to reach the fifty mark.

SWIMMING QUARTERS WILL OPEN SATURDAY

W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, announced last night that the free bathing house at the Gorge will be open during the holiday week-end. Ralph Alcock, regular supervisor and lifeguard, will be on hand Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Permanent opening of the quarters for the season will depend entirely on the weather, the official said.

An extra float between the bath-house and the stationary float on the bridge side has been added to the equipment this year.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
Grew Four Feet Overnight—Generally, the hard, dense plants are very slow in their growth. On the contrary, the softer tissues develop more rapidly. Some plants are astonishing in this respect, and some of the softest ones grow so fast that they can actually perceive the growth. In France, many years ago, experiments were conducted with bamboo and puff balls. The bamboo was found to grow as much as six inches in a single day, while the puff ball acquired as much bulk overnight as an animal does in ten years. The gigantic lycoperdon sprang from a seed so tiny that it is almost invisible, and between sundown and sunrise this fungus growth attained a diameter of four feet.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY PRESENTS: THE GIRL WHO WANTS TO "GET EVEN" WITH AN UNWORTHY MAN—A BACHELOR, WHOSE MARRIED BROTHERS AND SISTERS SHUN THEIR OBLIGATIONS TO THEIR PARENTS—A WIDOW WHO WANTS TO KNOW WHETHER IT WOULD BE SILLY FOR HER TO FALL IN LOVE AND CONSIDER MARRIAGE AT FIFTY—THE GIRL WHO IS WILLING TO GO INTO DEBT TO GIVE HER BOY FRIEND A WATCH—A YOUNG WOMAN WHO CANNOT UNDERSTAND WHY THE MAN SHE LOVES PROPOSED TO HER BEST GIRL FRIEND

There's always another Round-Up.

Edna: Why waste time and strength in an effort to "get even" with one so far beneath you? You don't want to descend to the plane of such a person, do you? He told you he loved you. That was a lie, because he has shamed you, has taken your money, destroyed your trust and left you bankrupt in body and mind. But, your soul belongs to you. Don't let him get that, too. Your soul can restore your body and your mind, so keep it clean and free. The next time he telephones you to meet him secretly, he's in trouble and needs you, flash him a busy signal and tell him, "Easy Edna doesn't live here any more."

Joe D: The fact that you are the eldest son does not impose upon you the role of sole caretaker for your parents. Every one of your brothers and sisters is equally obligated and should contribute according to their monetary ability. Marry the girl you love. Do not sacrifice her future and your own to the selfishness of others. Perhaps, when you are no longer the "bachelor brother," your married brothers and sisters will realize their obligations and meet them. If they do not, you should take steps to compel them to do so.

Worried Widow: Nothing "silly" about a fifty-year-old widow falling in love and considering marriage. Your maiden sister says she will "die of shame if you marry twice and here she hasn't even caught one husband." Don't worry. She will not die. She may be somewhat bilious with chagrin and envy, but never dangerously so. Don't insist on her living with you after marriage. One disgruntled person in a household can destroy the peace of it.

Betty: Most decidedly I do not approve of your going into debt in order that you may give the young man a watch for his birthday. Such an extravagant gift from girl to boy is in very bad taste. If his caring for you is dependent upon what he can get from you, drop him, for he is a "phony" and he will repay your generosity with a leaden heart instead of with golden dreams.

Wearone: If the young man had loved you he would have asked you instead of your dearest girl friend, to marry him. You admit there is no reason why he should not have chosen you. No reason except that he loves your friend, and that, my dear Wearone, is the most important reason of all. You say you can't be with them, even since they are engaged, without trying to win him over by doing little things to discredit your friend and making her appear dumb or cheap. Then you should have the decency to stay out of their company until you can control and alter your evil self. Try to interest yourself in the other young men you know. One of them may be the right one. Your friend's fiancé is not.

So Shy: Have you heard about an inferiority complex? If not, you had better get acquainted with the effect of one right away because that is what you have. Fear of appearing to less advantage than those with whom you associate ties your tongue and trips your toes. So what? So the very thing you fear happens—you do appear at a disadvantage. Force yourself to stay out of corners in rooms. Say and do things no matter how painful the effort. Every time you overcome your senseless fear, the next time will be easier, and after a while you'll laugh at the fraidy-cat you used to be.

Belle: Certainly ladies use cosmetics. They use them with discretion, however, and are careful never to make themselves fantastic or even conspicuous by reason of their aids to beauty.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

WHY DO WE SAY "A 1"?

We are so accustomed to "A 1" as part of our business lexicon, that it is simply taken for granted, with never or hardly even a thought to why or how this particular combination should stand for a high degree of satisfactoriness. Composed of the first letter of the alphabet and the first of the numbers, it is not illogical that "A 1" should represent "perfect" or "first-class"; but the motivating force behind its widespread usage is further beneath the surface.

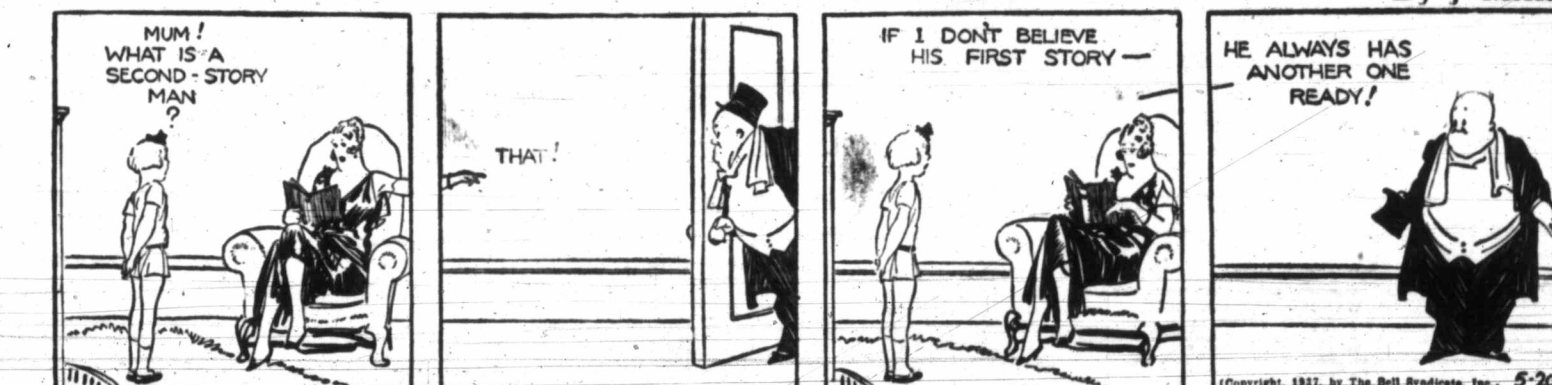

"A 1" had its start as a symbol in the code which was used to grade vessels in the shipping register of Lloyd's, in England, pioneers in marine insurance.

In this code, "A" signified the very best rating for the condition of the hull; similarly "1" was reserved for the finest state of the rigging and the rest of the equipment. The combination being applied only to ships of the first rank.

CHAPTER LV

The limousine was locked in a traffic jam in the narrow street. Enid picked up the tube and spoke to the chauffeur. He said he was afraid they would be held up for some time. He thought perhaps he should walk ahead and investigate.

"Very well, Enid said, and hurry!"

Five minutes later the chauffeur came back. He said a speeding car had turned into the one-way street and collided head-on with two machines about to turn into the avenue. Two of the cars were badly damaged and there was no chance of moving until a wrecker arrived.

The chauffeur had opened the door to explain. Enid stepped out. "I'll wait," she said. "It's only a few blocks. I'll call the garage when I want you to come for me."

Presently Enid was on Fifth Avenue. Later—hours later—she was to remember she had not told the chauffeur where she was going. Angry with Sandra, and with herself for letting "the child" irritate her so, she had felt that a headache was inevitable and she had said, shortly, "Drive to a drug store and get me a small box of aspirin."

And when the chauffeur had come out of the pharmacy and handed her the small tin and climbed into his seat again, she had snapped in answer to his very natural question, "Fifth Avenue, of course." As if he must know she was going to call on Mrs. Anthony Anceil. Which he did not know, and he was still wondering why the "of course" and what he was supposed to do after they reached the avenue, when Enid decided to walk and left the limousine. She was—later, when it was terribly important—to remember every word she had spoken to the chauffeur and thank her lucky stars she had been so reticent.

Now, however, her thoughts were of Sandra. And of Martha Anceil. And she found herself wondering if there were any connection between what Sandra had told her and Martha's invitation. Martha had said on the phone, "I've arranged a little informal programme. Enid. You'll be thrilled. Come up between 8:30 and 9. I promise not to keep you long." And though Enid knew Martha had never forgiven her for Anthony's persistent attention to his partner's wife, she had not found it in her heart to reject this friendly gesture.

That Martha knew of her recent meetings with Anthony did not occur to Enid. And if she had thought of this, she would have attached no importance to it, since those meetings had been of a strictly business nature.

She was walking slowly now . . . going back over those difficult months since Chet had come to her room one evening and told her, haltingly, "I've lost everything. Enid—including my credit. It isn't easy to tell you this, but you can't possibly open the Miami place. It isn't ours any longer. We don't own so much as a stick of furniture, and I can't borrow enough to pull us out of it."

What had troubled her that night and through the weeks that followed was not so much that they had been comfortably rich and were now pitifully poor, but that Chet seemed to have lost his grip. Tears had welled up in his eyes while he talked and paced the floor; his hands shook and his voice carried a note of helplessness that was so unlike the Charles Brooks she had married, the Chet who had refused to admit even the possibility of failure.

Almost at once she had thought of Anthony Anceil. Not only because Anceil was enormously wealthy, but because he was her husband's law partner and a logical person to approach . . . But she could not suggest to Chet that he go to see Anthony. Whatever was done must have the appearance, at least, of having been by Chet himself. If he were to get a hold on himself, if he were to regain his self-confidence and self-respect, he must never know his wife had pointed the way out of his difficulties.

And so she had telephoned Anthony and at lunchtime next day had told him frankly what she wanted and why her husband must not know what she was doing. And though Anthony seemed to be in complete sympathy with her plan, he managed to continue the discussion to a second luncheon engagement and a third—without giving his definite promise to help. He had said at that last meeting, "I'll get in touch with you, Enid. And there the matter had rested until that afternoon when Chet had bluntly accused her of 'running around' with Anceil—and—always the memory of this would fill her with a deep loathing for herself—she had slapped his face in front of Sandra and David, who at the moment entered the room.

That night she had gone to Anceil's home, ostensibly to see Martha, actually to be seen by Anthony, to remind him by her presence that she was waiting for an answer. And Anthony had said, quickly, when Martha was out of the room, "I've arranged that little matter for Charles, Enid. He can have as much as he needs. I'll call 'im to-night."

She did not trust Anthony, and she was only surprised, not shocked, when Chet phoned her the condition Anthony imposed. But it hadn't mattered. Chet might agree to give her a divorce, but he couldn't make her divorce him. And some day she would tell him.

Climbing the stairs to Fannie's apartment, Sandra remembered she still had her duplicate key. She let herself in without knocking and called Fannie's name. There was no answer. She crossed the room and called again. Fannie was not there.

Passing the little desk, her eyes flicked over the white square of formal notepaper lying on the blue blotter; but she was half way across the room before something in that fleeting glance registered in her consciousness, something vaguely familiar that sent her back to the desk, feeling a little guilty.

But when she saw the signature, she snatched the note up and read it without comprehension:

"My Dear Miss Roberts: I have read your letter with much interest and am inclined to agree that in fairness to you I should take no action until I have your version of what you so quaintly describe as an 'innocent infatuation.' If you are unable to call at my house between 8:30 and 9 this evening, please reply to that effect by the messenger who brings this to you. Otherwise I shall expect you."

"Martha Anceil."

Sandra stood glued to the floor, groping for one lucid thought. Then she was in motion again, intent on reaching Anthony Anceil's home as quickly as possible.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 9 to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 11 p.m. until midnight.

There is a chance that something will happen, making this a red-letter day for you. Do not clothe your movements in secrecy, for it may be a mistake. It is advisable for you to keep in contact with your home or office. Brevity may be the soul of wit, but it will also prove to be the basis of wisdom this day: You do not have to apologize for doing what you know is right, but if it possibly is going to hurt some person's feelings, at least be tactful about it. Give in whenever it is possible this day, if it does not involve some right principle, for stubbornness might foment trouble. Overcome pet aversions, for they may meet with little patience. The spirit of progress will be in evidence, and those who oppose it will display poor judgment. Married and engaged couples, as well as those who have reached a matrimonial understanding, will find that frankness, in most cases, will pay, and that equivocation is not apt to accomplish anything.

If a woman and May 20 is your birthday, you are probably very impulsive; generous and inclined to be a bit too much of a flatterer. You may be rather restless. If you realize that on this day one has to be almost a specialist to succeed in any line of activity, your interest in your work may increase, and your chances for success greatly enhanced. Many people born on this date love to argue, which is frequently a serious handicap in any attempt to become popular. As a librarian, real estate or insurance broker, teacher, musician, artist or newspaper woman you may find work of a congenial nature. The degree of success of your married life will be largely a matter that you can control.

The child born on May 20, frequently is very talented. This child must be taught to concentrate upon whatever work it has in hand. Generally in its late teens it enters upon a career, which, if not abandoned, may make it famous. If a man and May 20 is your natal day, you have plenty of ability, and if you make good use of it your success should be assured. As a lawyer, author, actor, politician, architect, manufacturer or industrial sales engineer your bank account ought to increase satisfactorily.
